What makes MDS different from any other school?
Is it the dress code, the fact that it is the oldest school in Macon, the Christian atmosphere, or its honor as a National School of Excellence? It is all of these things and many more; a school that is Anything but Typical! A visible symbol of the uniqueness of MDS is the school shield. It has four quadrants. In the upper left is the Mercy Cross, symbol of the Sisters of Mercy community. In the

Excellence Abounds at MDS

Students' diversity makes MDS a School of Excellence

Mount de Sales has always offered a wide variety of opportunities for its students to demonstrate their talents. Of course, the academic standards of the school are very high, and there are many teams on which to compete and show academic excellence. These groups have always shown the exceptional quality of MDS education in comparison to schools of all types. However, the real superiority of MDS comes from its balance of scholarship with the many other programs that allow for artistic, athletic, and musical development and that also teach important leadership skills. The most special aspect of MDS life is the pervasive focus on Christianity. Not only is each class opened with prayer everyday, but there are many special opportunities for outreach and service provided by the volunteer programs. This unique combination is what makes MDS recognized as a National School of Excellence.

The soccer team is a prime example of Mount de Sales' appropriate balance between excellence in scholarship and excellence in athletics.

Award Presented to School at Washington, D.C. Conference.

At the beginning of the year, Sr. Mary Rosina, Mrs. Mary Frances Peery, and Mrs. Brenda Timms had the privilege of going to Washington, D.C., to receive the National School of Excellence award for Mount de Sales. Mrs. Timms felt as though she had won the Readers' Digest Sweepstakes when she found out that she was selected to go. Sr. Rosina said, "I couldn't help but feel pride and excitement that the school we know as terrific is getting NATIONAL recognition. Now everyone knows what we always knew."

The highlight of the trip was the luncheon at the Washington Sheraton Hotel where the actual awards ceremony took place. Certainly it was an exciting moment when the President himself addressed the group made up of representatives from other nationally recognized schools. Mrs. Timms said, "The President's speech brought tears to my eyes, and I felt great pride and joy swell up inside of me. What an honor!" Later that day, these three members of the faculty attended a reception given by the National Catholic Education Association at which MDS was again honored for its excellence.

The number of masses held in the gym throughout the year typifies Mount de Sales' emphasis on Christianity. For this Thanksgiving liturgy, cans of food were collected and given to the poor.

Looking Back . . .

It was a great year for Mount de Sales! There were many "firsts" that made this year unique from any other. The soccer team won its first State championship, beating Stratford at Westminster. Sr. Helen started a volunteer program for the first time at MDS. Coach Slocum was honored for the first time as Coach of the Year for his leading of the basketball team to their first State championship. The MDS chorus went on their first tour to Nashville, and a new hot food service was implemented for the enjoyment of all students. It could not have been a better year to live out the pride of being a School of Excellence.

“QUOTE

Chad Westmoreland (junior) —
“I’m glad MDS provided the opportunity for the Earth Science class to go hiking on Cumberland Island — chasing armadillos, feeding deer, and swinging from vines. I’d love to go again!”

Now, students are accustomed to paying $2.25 for two slices of pizza, a chicken sandwich and fries, or a hamburger and fries. In addition, french fries or cheese nachos are offered for $1.00. Another exciting part of this new service is the addition of a salad and potato bar.

A Tale Of Chivalry

Homecoming gave students a chance to discover how it must have felt to live in the medieval period. The theme for Homecoming week, "Ye Merry Days of Olde," reflected the lives of brave knights and damsels in distress. In a flash, Mercy Hall went from being a forest of knowledge to a forest named Sherwood. The traditional events of the week took place, including the bonfire and class skits. The candidates, announced by the senior boys, were Melonie Bell, Dana Higginson, Meg Jackson, Amanda Martinez, Jenny Newman, and Ruth Shearer. Also during the week each student had the opportunity to dress up in costumes relating to the theme of the week. The outfits ranged from those of hunchbacks to princesses. Dana Higginson was named Homecoming Queen at Friday's game. When asked how she felt when she heard her name called, she commented: "I was shocked, I was just happy to be on the court. I didn't expect to get Homecoming Queen." The annual homecoming game was played against Windsor and was followed by the traditional dance where music was provided by "Trunk Space." Most students who attended the game and dance said they really enjoyed both of them and that the band was terrific. Homecoming 1991 was one that won't be forgotten.

Boy, Have We Got Problems

Everything added up to a challenging day as students from each math class received the chance to participate in Math Day on January 24, 1992. The morning started with a comprehensive math test given in the cafeteria by Coach Mike Garvin. After the end of the test, students were divided into separate teams and given Coach Garvin and Mr. Midkiff's famous "math munchies," which are totally mind-boggling problems. The students are expected to solve as many as possible as they eat lunch together. Following the munchies each team trudged to the library for the grand finale. Each team had one student go to a desk at the front of the room to answer one question. The questions are categorized so that students of each area of math each have a fair chance to answer them. Each round presented a new student with another problem. The problems ranged from simple mathematics, to algebra, geometry, trigonometry, and calculus. Everyone who participated really enjoyed the event and many hope to take the great math challenge next year.

"But this has to be the right answer!" Drew Crawford explains to Jenny Flewellyn his method of attaining an answer to a challenging math problem.

Pride In Our Roots

Through its celebration of Black History, the Mount de Sales community took part in celebrating the tremendous impact many black Americans have had throughout history. February 19 marked the highlight of Mount de Sales' celebration of Black History Month. On this day, the talented students helped to create a colorful tribute to the black Americans that was certainly extraordinary.

The Black History program held in the gym was complete with four musical performances, one dance, and an inspiring talk given by a guest speaker. The songs were performed by the MDS Chorale, the Boys' Quartet, and soloists Amethyst Shortz and Omar Dawson. Tamoral Sams gave an expressive cultural dance. But the most memorable aspect of the assembly was the lecture by the honorable Judge Henry T. Wingate. His speech included references to famous personages from history, like Hannibal, who were black. He also discussed the contributions made by many black Americans. All the talents of Mount de Sales' students came out on this day, enriching the values that this school places on its diverse student body.

Meeting In The Middle

This year the Middle School had a student life of its own. During Thanksgiving, several eighth graders from Mrs. Dadisman's English class went to St. Joseph's School. Each student took with him an illustrated book about the first Thanksgiving and gave it to a kindergartener. Later, the eighth graders went back to St. Joseph's and wrote springtime poems with the kindergarteners. Jason Hartman said, "Most of the kids were shy, but they turned out to be real fun."

In March certain middle school students were chosen to participate in the middle school Math Day led by Mr. Don Sherwood and Mr. Mike Garvin. The winning team consisted of Chris Allen, Stephanie Avery, Dona Cortes, Julie Sams, Carl Koontz and Melissa Brown. Carl Koontz said, "I was happy and it was a fun experience for me to win my very first math day at Mount de Sales."

Probably the favorite event of the middle schoolers is the annual Grandparent's Day, and this year it was once again a smashing success. Grandparent's Day gave the eighth graders a chance to show their grandparents, parents, or special friends how much they appreciated the love and care given to them through the years.

This special day will remain in the hearts of the eighth grader's grandparents.

All This, And A Whole Lot More

Even the everyday campus life of Mount de Sales students is anything but typical. Although students attend the same classes daily, each week brings some type of new experience: a pep rally, a morning assembly, chorus performances, or parent/student picnics.

The "normal" day begins with homeroom which is a time when teachers and students take a few minutes to get organized before what may become a busy experience. The most important part of the morning is coming together in prayer spoken over the intercom or led by homeroom teachers. Next the day begins and often seems to never end.

Mt. de Sales never has a moment when any student should feel as if he or she has nothing to do. Aside from the demanding academic schedule, many students are involved in other activities including the newly established National Art Honor Society, the French and Spanish clubs, Newspaper and Yearbook staffs. The friendships on campus are unique because each signifies the coming together of diverse personalities and backgrounds. Thus, students get a chance to learn more about themselves by learning about others.

It is a privilege to be a part of a school with such a strong foundation in all aspects.

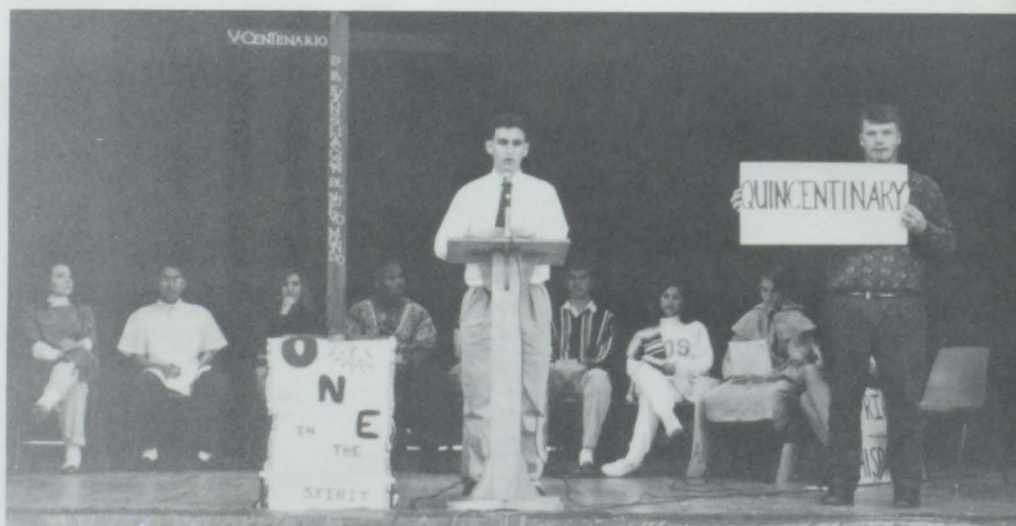

Is it anything but typical to find a friendly smile on junior Ben Wills' face?

Just For The Fun Of It

Fun Night at Mount de Sales is an experience that has brought out the spirit of everyone, high school and middle school alike. Fun Night 1992 lived up to its reputation as a time for students to act their craziest in the silly but fun events.

This year, Fun Night took place during the State Basketball tournament. The football relay just wasn't the same without the basketball players' slams, but hopefully this night helped the players release the pressure of winning the state title the following night.

The class winners of the individual Fun Night events are never the same twice. The freshmen beat the seniors in tug-of-war, the juniors won the pyramid race, and Anne Claxton and Drew Crawford of the senior class took the dress-a-boy dress-a-girl contest. The overall winner was the senior class. Senior Meg Jackson, when asked about the fourth and final victory, said: "It made me proud to be a member of the class of 1992. After we won our junior year . . . we knew we had to win this year."

Students left Fun Night with the same high-spirited attitudes with which they arrived. That evening gave students a vent for all their academic stress and a means to develop a closer relationship with their class.

Who said that things always have to stay the same? Drew Crawford and Anne Claxton prove it not to be true on fun night.

Shedding Light On The Season

One of the most beautiful and unique experiences at Mount de Sales is the Candlelight Carol Service. Held at Saint Joseph's Catholic Church, this service has an attendance rivaled only by graduation. It provides an opportunity for many students to participate in this celebration of the Christmas season. The 1992 Candlelight Carol Service was led, as always, by the senior class. This year's, however, was organized by Sister Helen McCreary for the first time. The evening's events included the senior procession, the reading of the Bible's Christmas stories, and a stunning performance of the Mount de Sales Chorus, which sang various Christmas carols and songs. The most beautiful part of the service was the lighting of the candles. Starting at one end of the church and spreading outward, the lighting symbolized the unity shared between all the members of the Mount de Sales family.

Representative J. Roy Rowland delivered an inspirational speech to the students at Mt. de Sales.

Junior Al Faulk reads one of the many requests for world peace that were offered during the prayer service for "Discover Catholic Schools".

The Spirit Of Faith Moves On

The theme for Catholic Schools Week this year was "Discover Catholic Schools." The week was filled with activities which, in some way, reflected the traditions of Catholic schools. The activities included a prayer service, a recognition assembly, an out-of-dress-code day, and a student-parent picnic lunch. The week reached its end with a proclamation by Mayor Tommy Olmstead declaring January 27 through January 31 as Catholic Schools Week.

Representative J. Roy Rowland also gave an inspiring speech to the students followed by a question-and-answer session. Catholic schools are a big part of our lives. They give everyone a chance to discover his growth regardless of social, racial, and religious background. The education received at a Catholic school cannot be compared with anything else in the world. After all — Mount de Sales IS a nationally recognized Blue Ribbon school of Excellence . . .

Actions Speak Louder Than Words

Helping others has always been a part of the Mt. de Sales tradition. This year Sr. Helen gave students a chance to serve the needy in our community. The "Works of Mercy Volunteers" went to area volunteer services on a weekly basis. Jennifer Price commented, "Volunteering is a way to give back to the community." The services given by the students were worthwhile. When asked how she felt the new volunteer service program went this year, Sr. Helen commented, "Well, let me say it's been a learning experience for me. I've been very impressed with the faithfulness of the student body that followed through with their commitment."

The Student Council and Religious Activities Committee have also sponsored projects including the organization of New Student Orientation Day, sponsorship of the Red Cross Blood Drive and Shamrocks for Distrophy program, and the adoption of needy families during Christmas time. The Religious Committee's activities included the planning of masses, the Thanksgiving food drive, the cards for prisoners project and the Red Ribbon Campaign.

The type of service given by Mt. de Sales students is anything but typical and is always straight from the heart.

A Walk On The Wild Side

Roughing it was exactly what several students and members of the faculty did when they camped at Cumberland Island in March. Thanks to Mrs. Bentley, the coordinator of the daring adventure, many people got a chance to truly become one with nature. The group started their weekend rendezvous with a "luxurious" stay at the Days Inn, but before they knew it daylight had struck and it was time to hit the trails. The "Cumberland Princess" took the MDS group as well as many other campers to their designated Island. After a three-and-a-half mile hike, sleeping accommodations were set up and the group went for a long and beautiful walk on the wildlife-filled beach. After a long night of raccoon chasing, the group awoke to a beautiful sunrise. When asked how she felt after a seven mile hike Mrs. Bentley commented, "I'm tired. I've hiked more than I ever have in my life. If I recover I might try it again. IF you can hike to Stafford Camp you can hike ANYWHERE." The highlight of the trip was when a beautiful deer visited the campsite and allowed the campers to feed her. All these happy hikers said that they would definitely do it again if they got the chance.

Hey, wait a minute! Is that Mrs. Bentley or Tarzan? Whoever it is definitely had a good time at Cumberland Island.

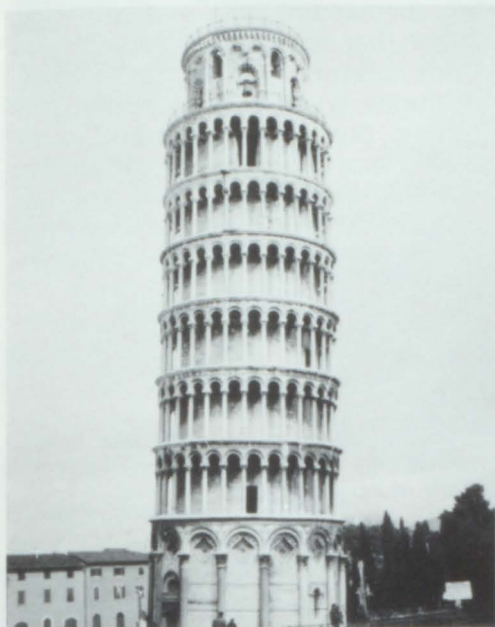

All smiles, the daring hikers rejoice as they return to the mainland after an overnight stay in the wilderness.

It might have been a little chilly for most people, but not for Mrs. Knott, Carolyn Harpe and Mrs. Bentley as they prepared to hike to their campsite.

Senior Anne Claxton and junior David Skinner enjoy Italian food at an authentic restaurant during the trip to Italy in November.

Lisa Sheridan and her father prove that traveling can often be a bit too exciting to handle, but that it's worth it.

Expanding Horizons

Twenty-three members of the Mount de Sales family traveled to Italy during the Thanksgiving holiday. They flew to Milan on November 23, 1991 via London. Three hours after landing in Milan the group, led by Mrs. Lindsey Skinner, arrived in Florence. The Italian experience began! For three days the group toured Florence viewing the works of great artists, seeing fine Italian leather goods being made, and sampling the exotic Italian foods. In addition, the travelers visited the village of Pisa and viewed the famous Leaning Tower. On Wednesday a bus ride carried the group to Rome. Along the way, they spent a few hours in Assisi, the home of St. Francis. While in the medieval village, the travelers saw the actual chapel in which this saint worshipped. In Rome, the group saw the Vatican, the Coliseum, the Roman forum, and the Pantheon. On the final day of the trip, the group trekked through the ruins of Ostia Antica, an ancient Roman port.

Early on the morning of December 1, the group said, "Ciao" to Italy as they departed from Leonardo DaVinci airport in Rome. The travelers arrived home with many warm memories of an Italian holiday.

A Positive Perspective

Everyone was on a positive high during this year's Positive Attitudes Week, also known as P.A.W., which took place March 30-April 3. Kicking off the activities was Smile Day. Each student wore a little smiley-face sticker. This year, Lisa Sheridan, President of the Student Council, organized a "Wall of Fame" in the cafeteria. This wall displayed the photos of the five most positive students from each class. Later during the week, a penance service was held allowing students the chance to talk about their problems to a minister or priest. One of the most exciting activities was "Hammertime." This involved paying twenty-five cents to take three swings with a huge sledgehammer at the negative attitude car. The traditional beach party was held as a Hawaiian Luau, during which students competed in a variety of silly, but fun, games. The week concluded with a volleyball game between the seniors and the faculty during the school day, and a talent show that evening. Junior Endia Cook commented, "During Positive Attitudes Week I get a reason to have a positive attitude and help others have a positive attitude." Overall, this week encourages a positive attitude every day, making Mount de Sales a more positive place to be.

Making Magic Come Alive

Every spring juniors and seniors everywhere anxiously await one of the most special events of their high school years, the prom. The juniors worked tirelessly this year to transform the gym into a breathtaking oriental scene with colorful streamers, dragons, and a grand structure of a pagoda.

No one can really appreciate the amount of work put into the mixing paint, planning, drawing, and building. The huge pagoda was an architectural feat that called for tedious work and could not have been accomplished without the help of Mr. Danny McTier. Perhaps the real heroes of the prom were Mr. McLachlan, Mrs. Claxton, Mrs. Robbins, Mrs. Dohn, and Mr. Midkiff who never seemed to run out of patience.

Students worked at a hectic pace down to the wire to finish those last minute touches that made the prom such an enchanted event. But it all paid off on the night of the prom when the only thing that is more beautiful than the decorations are the people themselves dressed in their finest and looking their best. Everyone remembers the prom as a time when the junior class becomes closer and seniors shine in lead-out. The Class of 1993 has the distinction of making this one of the best proms ever!

The Pagoda was the highlight of the Junior-Senior.

Midnight in the Orient

Prom night 1992 at Mount de Sales was an evening to be remembered for the juniors and seniors. This year's Junior-Senior was by no means a typical dance with an ordinary band and refreshments. From 8:00 until midnight on April 11, the area that is commonly known as a basketball court became the magnificent creation of an "Evening in the Orient." The 1992 Junior-Senior followed the tradition of giving students the opportunity to experience a formal evening which included dinner, dressing up in tuxedos and elegant dresses, and dancing.

This year's Junior-Senior also brought a break in past tradition; lead out was held at 9:30 p.m., giving parents the opportunity to arrive more conveniently and giving students and their dates a reason to spend more time at the prom.

As previous junior classes have done, this year's junior class and its moderators worked with diligence to insure the extraordinary quality of this year's prom. Perhaps the most outstanding physical feature of the Junior-Senior was the authentic looking Pagoda used for as the lead out ramp. This year's band "The Root Doctors" was also one of many aspects at the Prom that proved the valuable planning put in by the junior class.

Seniors Ronda Rohn and Bryan Siler love attention during lead out.

A Break in the Season

Easter Break was enjoyed by most of the students at Mount de Sales. During this time of the year, students had a chance to relax and have fun at home or on vacation with distant relatives or friends.

Students were a little sleepy after returning to school that following week, but all were excited about telling their fellow classmates what they got into during the break. One group who always seems happy to return are the teachers who are eager to fit in as many year end activities as possible. The one highlight of returning to school for many students is that the end of the year is so much closer than it was after Christmas Break. Junior, Yvette Perez commented, "I enjoyed Easter break very much because I went to Daytona Beach with four of my best friends and we had a blast!" Many students went to the beach and had the chance to enjoy the beauty of the ocean water and the different scenery. A few students had recently started new jobs which took up most of their vacation time.

Although they had fun, students did not forget the true meaning of Easter, the Resurrection. Overall, the Easter break was both a recreational and spiritual occasion for Mt. de Sales students.

Juniors Jennifer Smith, Nicole Shiftlet, Mandy Smith, Courtney Carey and Yvette Perez chill by the beach.

Jennifer and Melissa Raffield, Ann Peery, Kathy Kendall, Helen Alderman, and Kim Finney love the beach.

Juniors Roseann Brannen and Todd Carmichael prove that fun has no limits.

Rick Sizemore and Scott Achtemeier return to their house after wading in the ocean at Seaside, Florida.

Toni Collins, Amie Allen, Amy Roman, and Beth Carmichael's friendship is as strong as a rock.

Juniors Leigh Wallace, Mandy Deutsch, Wendi Long, Michelle Buquet, Karen Lance and Roseann Brannen wonder, "What's Up".

"This Easter Break was the best. I was with all of my friends and we had a BLAST!"

Reliving the Renaissance

The junior class shared a memorable day in Fairburn, Georgia this year thanks to Mr. Michael Vullo. The world history students attended the Renaissance Festival, which is a grand playground duplicating the lifestyles of medieval people. Some of the lively events were: a jousting arena where the good guys fought the bad guys, several Shakespearean plays that definitely had a twist in them, very spiritual African culture dances, and the chance to experience real sword fights.

Many of the juniors and faculty that attended the festival were adventurous eaters for most of the day. From turkey legs to fried ice cream, everyone tasted the flavor of medieval life. Eating wasn't all the students did though. Many students had the opportunity to meet other students who attended the festival from surrounding and even a few out-of-state schools. When asked about her favorite part of the festival, Richa Marshall said, "The part of the festival that I enjoyed most was probably the recreation of the play Julius Caesar. The actors in the play made it funny. The food was great!"

Joy Sams and Joe Kusar show a merry smile on the ride back home.

better idea of how the people of that era lived.

"We picked out the best mime of all," says Wendi Long and Leigh Wallace.

Melissa Raffield takes on her true identity as a jester after the festival.

Juniors Matt Brown, Nicole Shiftlet, Chad McDaniel and Yvette Perez loved being spectators.

Scott Achtemeier says, "You only live once, why not be a dragon for a day?"

David Skinner proves what a great Marco Polo he can be, even with a bucket on his head.

Al Faulk is smiling because this medieval food vendor is about to give him some barbequed turkey legs.

Linda Horan and Alena Childs enjoyed fencing with each other on their day off from school.

"It was a great experience to actually see how people lived so long ago."

Something to Sing About

The 1992 Mount de Sales chorus was fortunate to receive a unique opportunity which allowed the members to broaden their horizons and further express their outstanding talents. May 14 marked the beginning of the four day chorus tour of Nashville, Tennessee, which included visiting and giving performances at several important tour sites. Beginning with the Hermitage, Andrew Jackson's home, these tour sites included the Legislative Plaza, the symphony (with Lou Rawls), the Country Music Hall of Fame, Studio B, and Opryland. The tour was concluded on May 17 with a performance given at St. Edwards Catholic Church.

The chorus' tour was one way through which all members could experience the aspects of presenting their talents as professionals. More importantly, however, the Nashville tour was helpful in bringing the members of the chorale and the choraliers together. Through weeks of raising funds with sponsorships and candy sales and during weeks of diligent practice, chorus members learned the values of achieving goals with group effort.

Senior Angie Joiner performs some of her best solo work ever at the Legislative Plaza in Nashville.

Christy Price, Kara Kilgore, and an additional friend are all set for the trip back to Macon.

For Abby Henderson, Mandy Carver, Cerelymunda Rountree, and other chorus members, the Nashville Tour seems to be a fun experience.

Ana and her host mother Mrs. Aponte enjoy a picnic lunch during the school's 120th anniversary celebration.

The girl's tennis team welcomed Ana as a skillful and valuable player.

After the lunchtime traffic has cleared in the Mercy Hall locker room, Ana greets the camera with a friendly smile.

An Exchange of Cultures

Last August, Ana Perez-Lanzac traveled from her home in Malaga, Spain to Macon to spend the school year in America as an exchange student. Ana soon became a member of Mt. de Sales' junior class. Throughout the year Ana noticed many differences between the American lifestyle and the way of life in Spain. For example, in Spain teenagers cannot drive until the age of eighteen.

In addition, differences exist between Spanish and American schools. Ana said that with the exception of basketball, soccer, and volleyball teams, there are no extracurricular activities at the school she attended in Malaga. While at MDS Ana served as vice-president of the Spanish club, participated in varsity tennis, and was inducted into both the Spanish National Honor Society and the National Honor Society.

The classroom setting is structured differently in Spain as well. "I just loved having a locker and going around to classes. That may sound stupid or simple, but we stay in the same classroom the whole time in Spain," explained Ana. Ana also liked the MDS spirit she saw displayed during the year. "I love the school spirit. It is great to be a Cavalier!" she said.

Deserved Recognition

Students at Mt. de Sales Academy should feel a sense of honor simply because they attend a National Blue Ribbon School of Excellence, but there are those students who deserve individual recognition for their outstanding achievements throughout the year. This recognition was received at this year's final awards ceremony. The awards given out ranged from athletic letters to volunteer certificates. Each recognition assembly should give students the initiative to participate in as many activities as possible. Most students are now realizing the true importance of getting involved, and the teachers are always more than happy to give any advice they feel will help make the student develop into a better person. Junior Endia Cook was asked how it felt to receive an award and replied, "It makes you feel good to be honored and know your hard work has paid off." The feeling of knowing you have accomplished things in life always makes the journey more fulfilling. The most important thing to remember is that it is never too late to give of your time and hopefully discover that hard work does indeed pay off.

Mr. Mermann acknowledges math team member David Skinner on his outstanding accomplishments during the year.

Damien Wilkinson receives his blessing from Father Cuddy as he becomes a senior of Mt. de Sales Academy.

Rising to the Occasion

Ascension Thursday is the time when Christians celebrate Jesus' leaving earth and going to heaven to be with his Father. It is appropriate that on this day the juniors celebrated their Moving-up mass. The student body, faculty, family and friends all participated in the mass that was held before the actual Moving-up ceremony. Following the mass each junior received a blessing from Father Cuddy, which puts a guiding shield on the new seniors as they approach their final year of high school. The established tradition for years has been to allow the seniors to take the remainder of the day off to do as they please. Usually no complaints are heard from anyone. The honor of becoming a senior is accompanied by a final year to grow as a person and become closer to fellow classmates as the decisions of what to do in life become a more apparent reality. Junior Carolyn Harpe commented on Moving-up Day saying, "Moving-up Day truly united our class, and we each look forward to taking our roles as leaders of the school." Every senior class that has graduated from Mt. de Sales has had a lasting influence on the class that follows and the Class of 1993 will undoubtedly do the same.

E arth Club Continues Recycling Program

The newly-formed Earth Club, moderated by Mrs. Bentley, sponsored an in-depth recycling program in response to the increase in environmental awareness. The Club provided boxes for each home-room as paper receptacles. Once full, these boxes were collected and sent to be recycled. Also, the Earth Club set up a system for recycling aluminum cans used during lunch. A separate trash can for aluminum was provided at the exit of the cafeteria. MDS is proud to have a club that helps the school do its part in improving the world.

tudent Council

A Closer Look

"Say that again!" "That's a great idea for a Homecoming Theme — now could we incorporate it?" "Did you call the carriage driver and get the flowers?" "What about this idea for Positive Attitudes Week?" These are just a few of the many questions that come up during Student Council Meetings. Many students don't realize exactly what Student Council is or what it does. The Student Council has been an active body for four years. Each home-room has one elected representative. The Student Council does not come to school every Wednesday morning at 7:30 to eat doughnuts and socialize, but to work. At the beginning of school, Student Council was in charge of the Back to School Bash, and soon afterwards began planning for Homecoming. The theme, activities, and breezeway decorations were all created by the council. In addition to Homecoming, the council directed the fruit sale, the magazine drive, Positive Attitudes Week, and the blood drive. Undoubtedly, being on Student Council requires a lot of time, hard work, cooperation, and imagination.

School Service Groups

An Active Way to Serve the School

Where would Mount de Sales students be without the support of clubs and organizations? The Spirit Support Group, Social Activities Committee, Student Recruitment Team, Religious Activities Committee, and Library Assistants deserve much praise from the school community for their many contributions. These clubs are very much a part of life at Mount de Sales. The Spirit Support Group encourages the athletic teams by making banners and spirit buttons, while the Social Activities Committee organizes school dances. Veronique Fessard coordinated artwork for dance decorations, and Amber Rogers and Jenny Flewellyn publicized the events. The Student Recruitment Team welcomes and explores perspective students to Mount deSales. The Religious Activities Committee sponsors a variety of projects, including Thanksgiving food collections, the Red-ribbon campaign, and the Kris Kringle project for students. These extraordinary organizations do a great deal for Mount de Sales students, and their service is greatly appreciated.

MDS Students Reach Out to the Community

Mount de Sales takes pride in those students who lend their time and talents to helping others. Our students respond to the needs of the community and school through various special service groups. Among these groups are Key Club, with officers Brian Taylor, Meg Jackson, Jennifer Smith, Laura Nackashi, Ben Branch, and Chad McDaniel; the Service Group, and the Earth Club.

The Service Group and the Earth Club are new additions to Mount de Sales this year. In its first year, the Earth Club has instituted a school-wide recycling program and co-sponsored Earth Week 1992 with the Religious Activities Committee. The Earth Club has also strived to make the student body more aware of the environment. The Service Group has also had a successful first year. Members participate in pet therapy programs, volunteer at nursing homes, and tutor at the Booker T. Washington Center. Thanks to all of those dedicated students working for a brighter tomorrow.

Preserving the Year On Video, in Pictures and on Paper

The newest addition to the Mount de Sales literary publications is not literary at all — it's video! Videovations has been here for two years now, and has been met with great enthusiasm and success. The responsibility of this staff, headed by Mrs. Brenda Timms, is to capture the everyday activities of Mount de Sales students and present them on video as a momento of Mount de Sales life. Students, as well as teachers, have become accustomed to seeing the Videovations video camera popping up in the least likely of places.

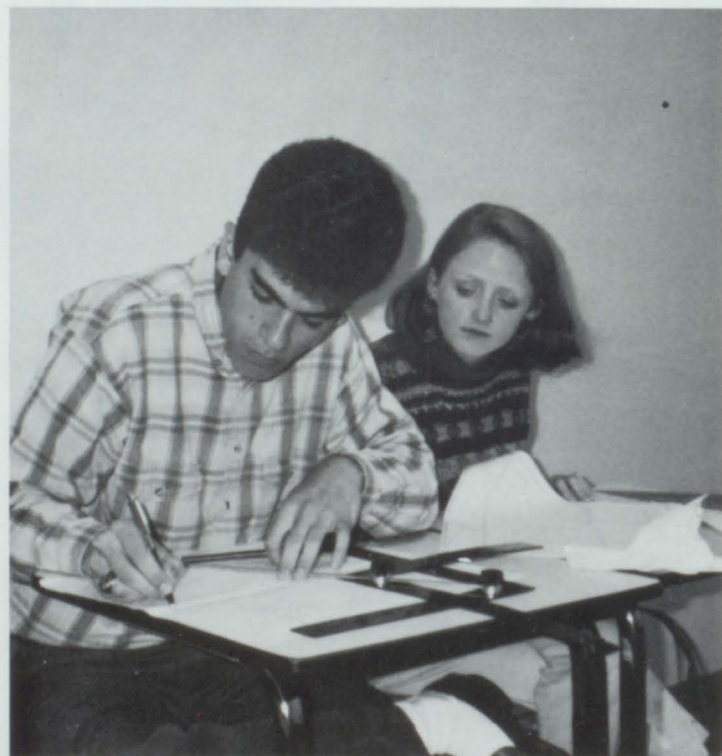

Despite the fact that it is so new, people readily put themselves in front of the camera to ensure their spot in the video yearbook. But some are still more reserved, as Billy Simmons said, "I really hate it when I walk up to people with the camera — and they run away! It gets really frustrating."

When ALL is Said and Done Mount de Sales Prevails

The foreign relations class definitely had a busy year. Not only did they participate in the Model United Nations, but also in the first annual International Summit Meetings, at which the class represented four countries: Brazil, Canada, the United States, and Israel. They took two speaker awards: Drew Crawford and Vince LaVecchia for Israel and Amy Roman for the United States. At the Model United Nations conference, the foreign relations class walked into Porter Auditorium with confidence. Cythia Luckie had prepared them well for their arguments. The foreign relations class represented South Africa and Israel. The South African delegates, Mike Adkins and Mike Malto, put up a good fight concerning the economic and environmental conditions. The Israeli delegates, Drew Crawford, Anne Claxton, Vince LaVecchia, and Amy Roman were continuously harassed by Syria, the PLO, and Egypt. Holding their own, the delegates from Israel walked away with speaker awards.

Academic Clubs

A Stroke Of Genius

Everyone enjoys watching Jeopardy, but imagine if you could actually participate. That's Academic Bowl! Four students are on a team, and there are typically twenty questions in a round. The topics deal with just about everything. Coached by Mr. Ron McLachlan, team members Anne Claxton, Amber Jenkins, Laura Nackashi, David Skinner, and Vince LaVecchia won second place at the Macon College tournament. All of them truly enjoyed the competition.

Science Team competitions are very similar to Academic Bowl. They are basically the same, but Science

Team members must take an extremely difficult written test. At the West Georgia College tournament, the team, coached by Mr. McLachlan and consisting of Amber Jenkins, Kyle Adkins, David Skinner, and Paul Marshall, was ranked second, qualifying for state competition. They had a great time, and learned much about the many different areas of science.

♦ "This question is ridiculous." Sometimes even Mr. McLachlan looks perplexed at some of the Academic Bowl questions!

An Outstanding Year

The 1991-92 school year was exciting for the Chorus. Their first major performances came at Christmas. Among the pieces they presented was the outstanding "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's Messiah.

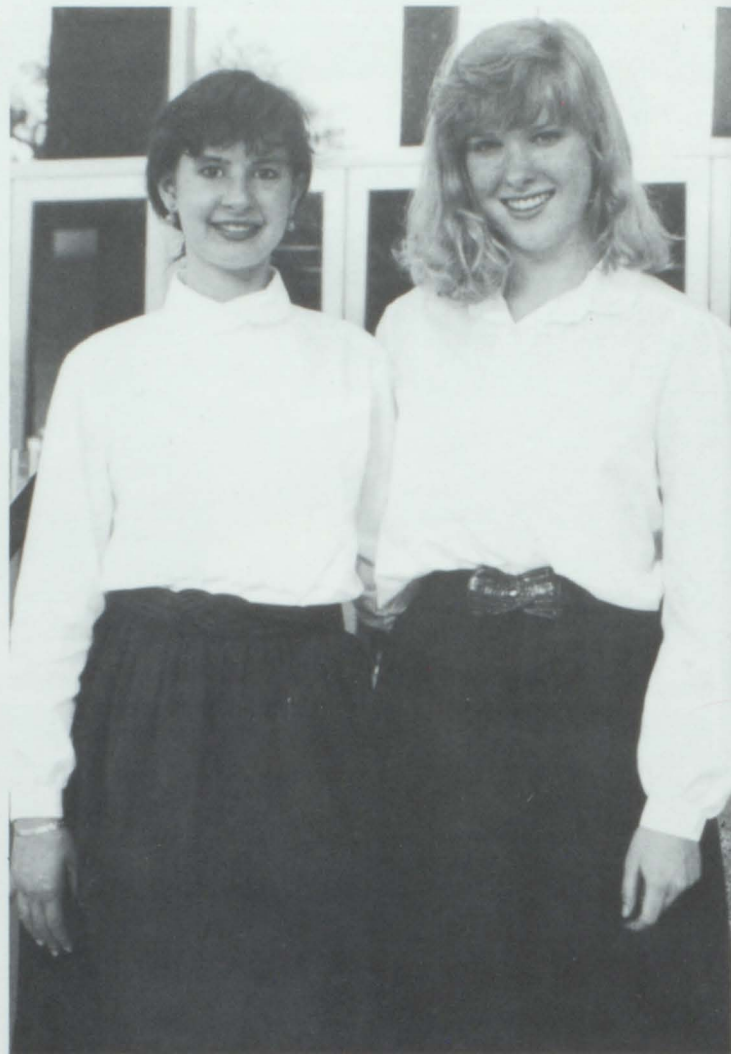

They attended the District 11 Chorus Festival in March. Both the Chorale and the girls' chorus received an overall rating of excellent and a superior rating for sightreading.

In May they journeyed to Nashville, Tennessee, on the first Mt. de Sales Chorus Tour. They sang at the Hermitage, the Legislative Plaza, and St. Edward's Catholic Church. In order to go on the trip, they had to raise $6,000. Approximately one third of this was raised through the selling of M & M's, collecting admission at baseball games, and a car wash. In addition, each chorus member had to raise $100 in donations from family, friends, and businesses. The trip proved to be worth the expense, and everyone had a good time.

Much praise is due to director Donna Washburn for her time and efforts in making this year unforgettable.

A Tough Act To Follow

The 1991-92 Mount de Sales Literary Team had an excellent year of competition. It all began on the school-wide Literary Day, during which students competed with each other to determine the winners and alternates that would compete at Wesleyan College for Region. These participants did quite well. They came away with an overall second place. The trio, Sadie Gaughan, Alice Fry, and Linda Horan; the quartet, Chris Moncrief, Brad Busbee, Matt Able, and Omar Dawson; soloist Angie Joiner; Anne Claxton and Ben Wills in essay; and David Skinner in oral interpretation were eligible to compete at the State level, at Armstrong College in Savannah. Mrs. Claxton, the coordinator of the Literary Team, and Mrs. Washburn, the music coordinator, took the team to Savannah the night before the competition. The next day, the team competed with the best in the State, and came home with second place by a margin of just a few points.

Foreign Language

Not Just A Language . . . A Cultural Experience

Each year, Mount de Sales provides opportunities for students to gain a greater appreciation of foreign cultures. This year Mount de Sales students took part in several activities combining foreign language and fun. During the week of March 23-27, Foreign Language Week, French and Spanish students participated in the National Foreign Language Exams. These were given to selected students to test their abilities in their chosen language. Some other students participated in the Foreign Language Oratorical Competition at Georgia Southern on April 25.

These competitors memorized two poems in either French or Spanish and recited them in front of judges. Other than competitions, the French and Spanish Clubs also had a busy year. The Spanish club sponsored many activities, including the national observance of Columbus Day. The French club watched movies that were dubbed in French, played French games, and had a pot-luck dinner in the spring. Dedicated students, foreign language, and fun . . . a winning combination.

National Honor Societies

Only The Best

Mount de Sales has three academic societies that honor outstanding achievement in high school students. The National Honor Society, moderated by Mr. Vullo, inducts students who demonstrate academic excellence, good character, leadership, and school involvement. The Spanish and French Honor Societies, moderated by Mrs. Fry and Mrs. Skinner, hold inductions both in the fall and spring. Presidents Alice Fry and Jennifer Price led the inductees in a pledge of dedication to the study of foreign language and to the promotion of peace through cultural understanding. For the fall ceremony, Jennifer Price recited a French poem, Paul Marshall played a Spanish guitar piece, Jenny Flewellyn read the twenty-third Psalm in French and Spanish, and Ana Perez-Lanzac was the guest speaker. Mount de Sales is proud to have such prestigious organizations to recognize the academic talents of its students.

Seniors Win Four In A Row!

With three years of Fun Night victories under their belt, the Class of 1992 knew that they had to win. The seniors had the highest percentage of class members present to cheer them on to the fourth victory in a row! The officers attempted to include everyone, but the coaches prevented some of the best athletes from participating in the football relay and tug-of-war in order to avoid injuries. In spite of this loss, the seniors were untouchable and became the second class in MDS history to win every Fun Night in which they were involved.

At the beginning of the senior year the class elected four extraordinary people to be the leaders of the class. These four people helped to unite the class, creating great memories during the final year in high school. The effort exerted by these devoted officers was exceptional.

Dozens of seniors like Kelli Fulghum assisted Special Olympics participants.

One of the best things about being a senior is being allowed senior privileges, including the opportunity to volunteer at the annual Special Olympics held at Porter Stadium.

Most volunteering seniors were buddies to participants. "They really looked to us as role models," Sheva Hill said about the students. Although the weather was cold, these special children warmed the hearts of seniors.

The experience opened the eyes of many seniors and enabled them to see how lucky they are. Kim Reid commented, "The kids were very enthusiastic about participating. It was good to see them have fun in sports. It made me thankful for the gifts I have."

We are one

The senior retreat was one of the most anticipated events of the year. The retreat, held at St. Joseph Church, was organized by the marriage classes. It was the last time the seniors would meet in an informal social atmosphere.

Activities were planned that coincided with the retreat's theme of unity. The games were successful in their purpose. Jennifer Price agreed, "I thought that the games we participated in were a good way to discover the personalities of those that we are not used to seeing everyday." The games not only opened communication lines within the class but also gave the students the chance to reminisce about previous years.

The senior retreat created many memories in the minds of the graduates. As the seniors laughed and cried, they realized that graduation was near. "[The retreat] was an emotional experience because it was the first time I felt that we were actually leaving each other," Jenny Newman commented. For just a moment the seniors were one.

Honoring the Seniors

On May 22 faculty, parents, and students gathered in McAuley Hall to honor seniors who participated in extracurricular activities and received awards for their academic and athletic achievements.

They assembled again on May 25 for the Baccalaureate Mass. It began with a heavenly solo by Angie Joiner. The offertory hymn was a lovely performance by the senior chorus members. This Baccalaureate was thought to be the most beautiful ever.

Coach Robert Slocum had an outstanding year as both head football and basketball coach. As Coach Mike Garvin stepped down from football, Coach Slocum took over and led the varsity football team to a second place victory in the region. For his achievements at the state basketball championship, he was named Coach of the Year and Coach of the Shoot-out Team. This team consisted of senior players from teams in the entire north region. Mount de Sales is honored to have such a talented and special man on the coaching staff.

A Dream Fulfilled

The 1991 soccer team entered the season with high hopes and great expectations. The team had an abundance of talent and spirit, which gave it depth. The hard work, outstanding coaching, and fantastic support enabled the team to win the State Championship for the first time in soccer history. The team was undefeated throughout the entire season, winning twelve games and tying only three. In the finals, the Cavaliers defeated Frederica 2 to 0 and then went on to defeat long-time rival, Stratford, 2 to 1 in overtime. Senior Dusty Cowart stated, "We were determined to make the finals and we would only take home the gold."

Seven members of this year's team became All-Region players. They were seniors Ben Whitaker, David Spisso, Dusty Cowart, Walt Yarbrough, juniors Myke Epps and Pat Zimmerman, and sophomore Dana Cowart. Ben, David, Dusty, and Walt were also named All-State players. Walt also received the Ben Bowden award for his outstanding ability as goalie. The team was coached by Mr. John Dattilo, Mr. Gary Musolf, and Dr. Robert Wright. Also adding to the team were managers Ruth Shearer, Amie Allen, Joy Sams, and Abby Henderson. The soccer team certainly had an outstanding season and were well-rewarded for their hard work. The season was definitely anything but typical.

Whatever It Takes...

The 1991 season marked a new beginning for Cavalier football. With new head coach Robert Slocum, the team began the season with high hopes and great motivation. This year's season brought many new coaches and the experience of summer camp. For a week the team worked hard and learned many new techniques in preparing for the '91 season. Senior Bubba Pool commented on the week as "an experience that not only brought the group together as a team but also created many lasting friendships."

The Cavs, pushed by a great amount of determination and spirit, got off to a slow start against cross-town rivals FPD and Stratford, but bounced back and earned their first win against Brentwood 28 to 19. Despite a few minor setbacks, the team came on strong during region games, defeating Monroe and Westfield. Advancing to the second round of the State Playoffs, the Cavaliers lost a hard-fought game to Southland Academy.

This year eight players were named All-Region players. They were Millard Vining, Danny Camp, David Spisso, Eric Castro-Poveda, Drew Crawford, Bryan Siler, Kevin McTier, and Gerdine Dawson. Millard Vining was also named as an All-State player. Senior Jay Foskey summed up the year when he stated, "We may not have had the best record, but we all stuck together and still made it a great season."

A Bright Future

Although the Junior Varsity football team did not have a great season, many new fundamentals were learned that will add to the strength of the varsity team next season. Under new coach Don Sherwood, the team worked extremely hard. Their work paid off in a 6-0 victory against FPD at midseason. When asked what the highlight of the season was, Coach Sherwood responded, "The victory over FPD was, with no doubt, the most exciting." Making great improvement from beginning to end, the team lost the last four games by only a slim margin.

This team greatly improved on their fundamental skills throughout the season. The highlight of the season was a victory over FPD." Overall, the JV girls won six games and lost six games. The leading hitters were Marnie Dodd, Kladie Washburn, and Christinia DeMichiel, while the defense was led by Kladie Washburn and Brandi Cook.

We've Got What It Takes

The 1991 softball season was a great success. The Lady Cavs won 22 out of 33 games and came in third in the State Championship. Much of the success was due to the team spirit and willingness to work together. When asked about the season Angie Stephens replied, "I think we had a great team this year, but everything just didn't work out the way we wanted it to. I still think our team is the best because we worked well together as a team and had an abundance of spirit." Coach Chester Pierce felt that this was a very successful year and that this team was the most coachable team he has ever had.

The season began with the Windsor Pre-season Tournament where the team earned a 4-2 record. They immediately swept two games from FPD and two games from Monroe. At the Region Tournament, the Lady Cavs played hard but came up one game short and finished second. Next, the team traveled to Southwest Georgia where they qualified for state finals with a 3-0 record.

The Lady Cavaliers had five girls who were All-Region players. They were seniors Katherine Hatcher and Angie Stephens and juniors Christa Timms, Leslie Weston, and Heidi Witt. Of these girls Angie, Christa, and Leslie were also All-State players. The team was coached by Mr. Chester Pierce, who was aided by Mr. Joe McGhee. The coaches were proud of the girls this year and would like to thank them for their efforts.

After a great season, Coach Pierce reminds team of all the good times and many wins.

We've Come A Long Way

The 1991-1992 basketball season will truly be a year that many will remember. Starting the year with a big win over Stratford, and ending with a championship win over Westfield, the Cavaliers never let their faith and spirit fall. They finished the season with an 18-6 record.

The Cavaliers hosted the Region Tournament which was played in McCauley Hall. For most of the season the team played well, and the outlook to be Region champs was very realistic, but the Cavaliers fell to Westfield for the second time on home turf. Next, the team traveled to Milledgeville to play in the State Tournament. The team made it to the final game, facing region rival Westfield. Coach Slocum stated, "During the State Tournament, our guys really made me proud because once you get into State Tournament play, there are no easy games. I am glad I had the opportunity to work with these boys." Looking back on the State Championship game, Eric Castro-Poveda reflected, "We have all dreamed of a state championship since we became a team in 8th grade. We had so much individual talent. With the help of Coach Slocum all our talents and strengths were molded together."

Another highlight to the season was the fact that Coach Robert Slocum was chosen as the GISA Coach of the Year. Over the past fourteen years, Coach Slocum has experienced over two hundred basketball victories here at Mount de Sales. Senior Gerdine Dawson summed up the year when he stated, "This year's team was more determined and had the character to do what others said couldn't happen — to win the State Championship."

Bryan Siler is bound and determined to make his next shot.

Only the Good Times

"This year we had a great group of girls. They were extremely easy to work with and had a very good work ethic. Injuries played a big part in our season and made it tough with so many girls out of position. The girls responded well and truly believed that they were going to win every time they took the floor. The leadership provided by our two seniors will hopefully carry over to next year when our juniors from this team will take their place. If friendship and smiles could win games this team would have gone undefeated, but so many other factors came into play. This team will just have to be satisfied with the fact that they gave so many people joy, especially their coach and their parents," replied Coach Tony Pierce when asked about the 1991-

92 Lady Cavaliers.

Seniors Katherine Hatcher and Ruth Shearer expanded on this idea saying, "We started our season this summer at the University of Georgia's Basketball camp. Our excitement and enthusiasm, as well as our playing, gave us much to look forward to for our school season. Things didn't go the way we expected them to, but we were much better than our record showed, whether we won or lost, we always gave it all we had and fought to the end. Many friendships were made between the players, but especially with the coach. We really appreciate everything he has done for us. A team couldn't have had a more dedicated coach than we did. We really love him and he's going to be missed a lot!"

Getting Bigger and Better

Under the direction of a new coach, Don Sherwood, the 1991-92 boys B-team basketball team had a new focus. For most of the season, the team concentrated on developing skills and strategies. Commenting on the team, Coach Sherwood stated, "The team was young, but improved greatly during the year. We played good basketball in the last few games, particularly on the defensive end of the floor."

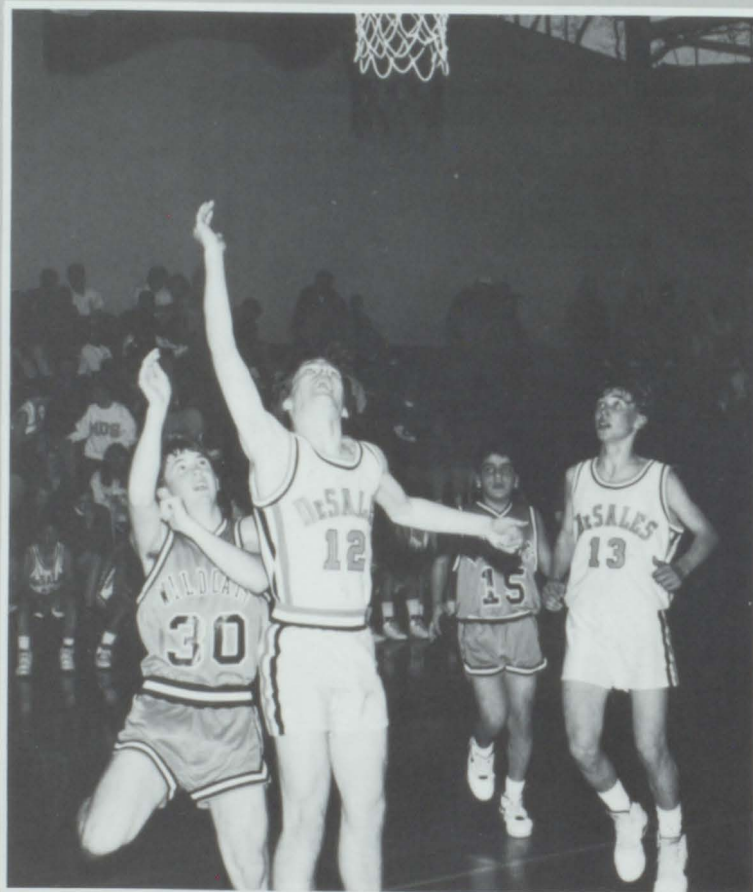

The team finished the season with a 4-9 record. Sophomore David Tyre recalls the season as "a productive year, even though we didn't have as many wins as we would have liked."

This year's seventh and eighth grade boys basketball teams showed tremendous effort by all those involved. Finishing with impressive records, the boys, coached by Mr. Paul Midkiff and Mr. Kirk Parker, won games against Stratford, Tattnall, Monroe, and Sacred Heart. The highlight of the 8th grade season was a double overtime against Tattnall. Keith Hatcher commented on the season by saying, "Coach Midkiff made us work hard, but at the same time we had fun." Dameron Davis added to this by stating, "We worked well together as a team and improved our game toward the end of the season." Developing their talents and skills early in their high school careers, these players should be very helpful to future varsity basketball at Mount de Sales.

A Journey Just Begun

This year's girls B-team was a young team. In fact, eight of the players were from the C-team. Chauryce Brooks recalls the season as "one that could have improved with harder work, but was enjoyed by all." Beginning the season with a memorable victory over Stratford, the girls finished the season with six wins and six losses. They worked hard on their fundamentals and were eager to improve. The season's high scorers were Melissa Alverson and Kladie Washburn, and Chauryce Brooks and Kladie Washburn were the leading rebounders. Mount de Sales is looking forward to watching these girls become star basketball players for the Cavaliers.

Melissa Alverson scores two more points toward a record high season.

This year's C-team possessed a great deal of talent. The girls improved with every game and intimidated their opponents. Mary Pierce fondly remembers the season, stating, "We had a combination of all the things that make a great team. We had the motivation to win it all."

The C-team girls finished the season with a perfect 13-0 record and won the C-team Championship. This season's high scorers were Kladie Washburn and Melissa Alverson. "It was exciting working with this group of girls. They were what I call a "coachable" group. They were responsive, determined, and easily motivated," stated Coach Lynn Hatcher. These girls are looking forward to successful basketball careers at MDS.

All the Right Moves

This year's 1991-92 Varsity cheerleading squad started off their season with a bang! The squad, along with Mrs. Ciaccia and Mrs. Reeves, went to cheerleading camp in Newberry, South Carolina, where they won many awards. This year's squad also had two All-stars — Amy Roman and Meg Jackson. After many summer practices, the squad was in full swing starting at New Student Orientation. The cheerleaders were then involved in the soccer and football seasons. Then, basketball season quickly followed, and, with the aid of six stuntmen, the cheerleaders worked hard to keep the Cavalier spirit alive. Kevin McTier found that being a stuntman was "a great experience which took lots of dedication." All in all, the cheerleaders had a wonderful season.

Covering All The Bases

The 1992 varsity baseball team was a young but enthusiastic team. Replacing seven starters, many team members played on the varsity level for the first time. The players responded effectively and finished the season with an 11-11 record.

The season got off to a slow start, but it ended with a six out of seven game winning streak. The most remarkable game of the season was a region game against Westfield. In this ten-inning game, Danny Camp struck out twenty batters. The Cavaliers won the game 3-2, which forced a one game playoff for second place in the region.

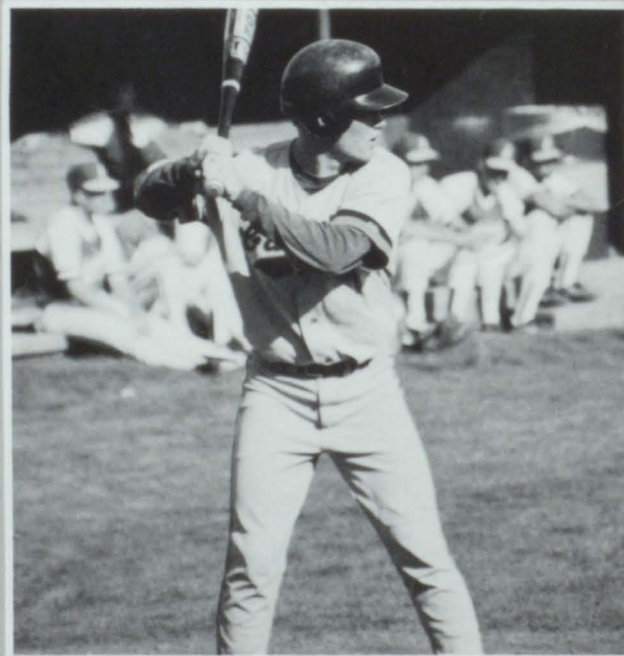

The future looks bright for this young team. Each player worked hard during the season, contributing his individual talents to a very spirited team. Coach Chester Pierce believes that this group will be "tough to beat down the road."

The golf team began its season as a young, but experienced team. Improving much from last year, the team finished sixth out of fifteen teams in the state tournament, which was considered one of their best matches of the season. Coach Randy Davis commented on the season, saying that it "ended on a positive note." This refers to the slow start the team had, losing a couple of rounds by only a few strokes. Although the season wasn't very successful, the players shot some very impressive scores, and hope to build on their talent for next year. Coach Davis said that the team did well, but he saw some room for personal improvement. The extraordinary thing about this team is that it has no seniors and, therefore, all the guys will be back next year.

On The Right Track

The 1992 boys and girls track teams, which were coached by Lynn Hatcher and Don Sherwood, consisted of young, talented athletes. Both teams performed well at all of the meets, reflecting much effort and dedication. On both a team and an individual basis, the representation by both teams was commendable.

Since none of the Lady Cavaliers were seniors, many of the younger girls provided the team with leadership. The girls finished third in region and fourth in the state track meet. The mile relay team of Katy Becker, Roseann Brannen, Jennifer Joyner, and Merita Evans shattered the old school record by six seconds, running the event in four minutes and thirteen seconds. Junior Roseann Brannen commented on the new record saying, "It was a great feeling. It lifted our spirits and made it all seem worthwhile." The Cavaliers began the season hoping to improve their skills in their various events. At the region and state meets, the boys showed their improvements by placing second at region and fourth at state. Juniors Chad McDaniel and Dean Howell were the only two team members to finish with a first place win at state. Senior Brandon Davis summed up the season by describing it as "both painful and exciting." Both teams are already looking forward to a successful season next year.

In The Swing Of Things

The 1992 tennis season continued its established winning tradition, with both teams improving dramatically during the season.

The boys finished the season with an overall record of 10-2 and the girls finished with a 3-8 record. The boys went undefeated in region play and won their fourth consecutive region title. Senior Mike Malto said "there was a lot of pressure on us during region tennis matches since we had won region the past few years. However, we pulled together and really made a great team."

This year's players were very supportive of one another. Their composure allowed them to pull off some very close and important wins. The boy's team ended the season by sending five players to the state tournament. At the state tournament, these players compiled enough points to tie for third place. The girls team was represented at state by Tarcia Tripp and Cathy Halutick. They won region at the number one doubles position, but lost in the second round of the state tournament. Tarcia summed up the season saying "I learned a great deal, but Miss Little taught me that you never lose as long as you learn something." All team members, including coaches Miss Little and Mr. Midkiff, were pleased with the outcome of this season and look forward to next year.

ew Class Visits Nursing Home Every Week

MDS offered a new class this year — A.P. Art, taught by Mrs. Mead. Eight students from this class became a vital part of the school's volunteer program organized by Sr. Helen. Every Wednesday some of these volunteers met for one hour at the North Macon Nursing Home. The students shared their time in fellowship and spread a little love into sometimes empty lives. Volunteer Kelli Fulghum remembers that "the volunteers learned much more from the residents than we could have ever taught."

Beginning the junior year of high school was part of the regular routine of any school year. As the year progressed, classes grew harder and people grew anxious. The majority of the junior class identified Chemistry as their favorite subject and Mr. MacLachlan as their favorite teacher. Melissa Raffield pointed out that "as the topics get harder, the teaching gets better."

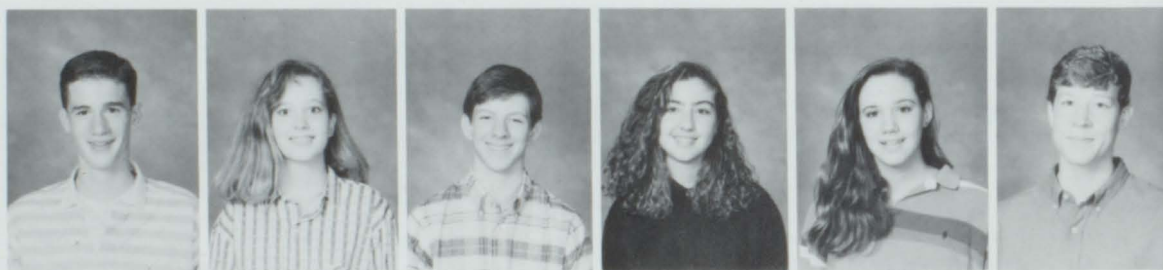

Towards the end of the year, everyone realized this was not just another school year. The Class had one final year left, and they needed to make the most of it. This enthusiasm went into pulling off a great Junior-Senior Prom and, thus, drawing the class together. The junior year was a time of finding out new things about yourself, your class, and possibilities for the future.

Twins Save Life

Employed by Rock Eagle for summer jobs, Timmy and Jimmy Oller were hired as lifeguards for a private church party having a retreat on the grounds. They attained this job only a summer after earning their lifeguarding license. Jimmy said, "We knew that we were taking a great responsibility with this job, but we never expected to actually encounter a bad situation."

A bad situation did occur, though. Jimmy took the stand in the shallow end of the pool, and Timmy was stationed in the deep end. By chance Jimmy glanced across the bottom of the deep end and saw bubbles. "A boy was already on the bottom. Since Timmy was closer, I motioned for him to get the boy out and to do it quickly," said Jimmy. Timmy explained, "I dove into the water and brought the boy to the surface. Jimmy pulled him out of the pool and started CPR." Soon the boy began coughing up water and breathing again. Both Timmy and Jimmy knew that he was going to make it after that point.

The victim was a six year old boy named Taiwann, and attended the church in Fort Hill that sponsored the party. Timmy and Jimmy received plaques for their service, and the boy's family rewarded them with a small amount of money.

Schnell — Champion Swimmer

One would think that someone who has won as many awards and has broken as many records in swimming as Freddy Schnell has would be cocky and perhaps, even arrogant. However, the exact opposite is true of this sophomore. Freddy is one of the most down-to-earth people anyone could know.

He began his swimming at the early age of five or six. He says that his parents started him out by entering him in a few swim meets. Ten years later, Freddy continues to compete, not only locally, but across the southeast. He swims both the 100 and 200 meter backstroke and middle distance freestyle.

Freddy has attended many state-level swim meets and has made the all-star team four times. Though in reality he has won numerous accolades and awards, Freddy modestly shrugs, saying that he has won "some" trophies and medals.

The continuation of competitive swimming in the future is a definite goal for Freddy. He hopes to win a college scholarship for swimming and compete on his college team. But as far as having dreams of an Olympic gold, Freddy shyly blushes, replying "No, not really."

Freddy Schnell excels in swimming by winning several awards and breaking two state records.

"All the World's a Stage"

In the productions of Lil' Abner and Purlie, Mount de Sales' freshmen class was extremely well represented by Megan Hester, Cliff Rushin, Becky Sizemore, and Angela Stanley.

Becky, Cliff, and Megan all performed in Lil' Abner. The musical follows Daisy Mae and her pursuit to capture the eye and heart of Lil' Abner.

Angela performed in Purlie, a musical telling of the many episodes encountered by Purlie, a new preacher.

They all agreed that it took time and effort to prepare for their roles. Angela Stanley stated that the actors in Purlie rehearsed hours after school and all weekend. Cliff Rushin's practice, however, did not stop when rehearsal ended. "I sang almost every night so that my voice would be 'in shape'!", he commented.

Despite the vigorous practices, these budding thespians do enjoy acting. "I enjoy the roar of the crowd!" exclaimed Megan Hester. Becky Sizemore agreed saying that she also liked being "different kinds of people other than myself." Although none of these fine performers considered acting as a future career, they each hope to perform in community theater for several years to come.

EIGHTH GRADE

Keith Hatcher helps Jessica Perez transform into a football player during Fun Night.

"We've caught that MDS school spirit!", cheers the eighth grade at a high-spirited pep rally.

Nettie Pierce spreads joy to her friends during Positive Attitudes Week.

Amy Williams helps create a positive attitude in the middle school.

Eighth grade girls stare intently at the contestants of the Best Legs Contest during the Luau.

"Ladies and Gentlemen!" Scott Werkmeister proudly presents the eighth grade during the Grandparent's Day assembly.

"Please don't drop that egg!", Chris Allen silently prays as William Harp passes him the sacred item during the over-and-under relay.

While taking a breather during a middle school party, John Robinson and Adam Siler couldn't be happier sitting with Mary Pierce, Sarah Hope, and Ashley Waters.

Many students agree that life in the eighth grade is very hectic and fast-paced. With the addition of the new student council and various clubs and service projects, eighth graders hardly have enough time to enjoy their last year of middle school. This year's eighth grade, however, knows how to make the best out of any situation. "We are a very perky class," explains Jason Hartman.

Physical education and Mr. Don Sherwood are this class' favorites. Lance Keen explains that the reason he selected Mr. Sherwood for his favorite teacher is because of his humorous personality.

Many eighth graders entertain themselves at the movies and say White Men Can't Jump and Fried Green Tomatoes are their favorite films.

"Outrageous" and "wild" are the two words the eighth grade used to sum up their class

Davis, Siler earn prestigious Eagle Scout award

"Do a Good Turn Daily" is the slogan of the Boy Scouts and it is a motto by which they truly live. Scouts daily strive to give "their all" to the community and the world through various service and conservation projects. Through this involvement, the scouts learn to care for other people and respect their environment. This concern is carried throughout the scouting levels of Star Scout and Life Scout until the highest rank of scouting is obtained, which is the Eagle Scout.

Two eighth graders, Dameron Davis and Adam Siler, have recently obtained the honor of being Eagle Scouts. In order to be an Eagle Scout, a boy must have been a Life Scout for at least six months, and he must have earned eleven required merit badges and ten other merit badges. He must plan and develop a service project and lead other Scouts to carry it out.

Becoming an Eagle Scout at such a young age like Dameron and Adam did, is quite a feat; it takes time and dedication. They are truly great role models for us all.

SEVENTH GRADE

Why do Will Sheehan, Peyton Massey, Patrick Phelps, and Wes Kurzen look so guilty?

Oh, that's how you do that problem! Stephanie Wolfenbarger marvels at this revelation during Middle School Math Day.

We've got spirit, yes we do! These Middle School students show their class spirit during this Homecoming bonfire.

While looking through an edition of the Salesian, Kristen Maynard and Megan Bradley discuss how people have changed.

Hey, what's so funny? Crisly Toole, Natalia Carden, and Julie Sams share a moment of laughter at a private joke.

What!?! We had homework last night? Bo Dominy remembers his English project is due after talking to Robbie Righter.

Oh, No! Don't drop that! Kristen Maynard and Brandon Elrod handle their water balloon very carefully.

Being in the seventh grade at Mount de Sales is a very new and exciting experience. The transition from elementary school to middle school, generally, can be difficult. The first day of school is extremely different from what many students initially expect. There are new names and faces to learn, and various schedules and rules to get accustomed to. The middle school teachers, however, try to make this move as smooth as possible. They make the students feel welcome and help them adjust to the different methods of teaching. And, coupled with the teachers' guidance, the seventh graders come to love their classes, each other, and their teachers. "We all get along and work together," Kelly Peterman explained.

What Seventh Grade likes best . . .

Despite their relatively short stay at Mount de Sales, the seventh graders have been here long enough to form some opinions concerning their favorite school activities. English/Reading is the favorite subject, and Mrs. Lynn Hutto is the favorite teacher of a majority of the seventh grade students. Their favorite school sports are baseball and softball.

The seventh graders, however, do have some things that they like to do outside of school. The mall and movies tied for the favorite weekend hang-outs. White Men Can't Jump tops as the best movie, and Kevin Costner and Julia Roberts rate superior as their favorite performers.

Their diverse school activities and social life help make seventh grade enjoyable. Each day is a new adventure for them, but these students welcome daily challenges. Even though they are the youngest and can't participate in many activities, the seventh graders have as much fun as humanly possible.

Out of all of these fabulous teachers, what do middle school teachers have that makes them special enough to tame the seventh grade?

The seventh grade shows its true "savage" side during this pep rally.

“QUOTE

Paige Davidson (junior) — “All of the faculty at MDS seem to care about and be friends to the students. At the same time, they are great inspirational leaders.”

JoAnna Amos (senior) — “The faculty here are very qualified and give individual attention better than at public schools. They care more about the students, not only academically, but also spiritually and emotionally.”

UNQUOTE ”

N ew Faces Around Campus

This year MDS was fortunate to gain four new faces on its teaching staff. Mr. Don Sherwood was hired as a middle school math teacher, and coached basketball, football, and track. Mr. Kirk Parker joined the MDS faculty as American History teacher. Additionally, he coached basketball and football. Mrs. Nona Bordallo came to the staff as Spanish I and II teacher. Mr. Michael Blitch replaced Mrs. Reeves as teacher of Biology and Advanced Biology.

"I was thrilled to be able to represent our faculty and students. The prospect of a trip to one of my favorite cities was exciting."

— Mrs. Mary Frances Peery

Last September Mrs. Mary Frances Peery, Mrs. Brenda Timms, and Sister Mary Rosina traveled to Washington D.C. to receive the award for Mount de Sales' recognition as a Blue Ribbon School of Excellence. While in the capital city, they went to a reception at which Lamar Alexander, Secretary of the U.S. Department of Education, spoke. At the reception, and again at the Kennedy Center, the threesome was entertained by various musical groups from fine arts schools which also were receiving the Blue Ribbon award. The climax of the trip occurred when our faculty members attended a luncheon where the awards were to be presented. George Bush made an appearance at this luncheon, and he addressed the representatives from the winning schools. After the speech each school was given a plaque and a flag of excellence by Brund Mand of the U.S. Department of Education. Following the special ceremony, Sister Rosina, Mrs. Timms, and Mrs. Peery spent the remainder of their stay in Washington D.C. visiting sites of interest and meeting with old friends. Although the flight home was a bit tiring, their minor problems were overshadowed by our school's outstanding award.

"Father Cuddy is the wisest, gentlest, and most understanding priest I have ever known."

— Mr. Kevin Dockrell

"Do we need our literature book or our grammar book for English today?"

"Neither. Father Cuddy's here!"

Such conversations can be overheard four or five times a year when Father John Cuddy, of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, takes time out of his extremely busy schedule to visit the junior and senior English classes. During these visits he and the class discuss many topics, such as divorce and morality. He expresses his view and illustrates his point with many stories from his own experiences. As all juniors and seniors well know, he's got a story for everything! Tracy Ross, a senior, said, "I enjoy having Father Cuddy come in and share stories from his experiences with us." Through his affiliation with Mount de Sales, Father Cuddy has made many friends among the faculty as well. "Father Cuddy is the wisest, gentlest, and most understanding priest I have ever known," said Mr. Dockrell. A visit from Father is one of the many things upperclassmen have to look forward to in their junior and senior years.

"I always enjoy coaching!"

— Coach Don Sherwood

It takes a great deal of patience and dedication to be both a middle school teacher and a coach. Luckily for Mount de Sales, Coach Don Sherwood has both. Coach Sherwood, a native of New York, is new to both the Macon area and the unique atmosphere here at Mount de Sales. He attended college at Kings College and the Sports Academy. Displeased with the public educational system, Coach Sherwood has chosen to teach at Mount de Sales. Although he teaches math and science in the middle school, Coach Sherwood coaches junior varsity football, B-team basketball, and boys varsity track. But as the only male teacher in the entire middle school, Coach Sherwood provides an important male role model for young students. Coach Sherwood also remains active in his spare time, enjoying softball, football, and other sports. His knowledge of athletics and academics will surely benefit Mount de Sales in the years to come.

After nineteen years of service as the Mount de Sales librarian, Mrs. Madge Knott moves on.

Mrs. Madge Knott, who has been at MDS for nineteen years, decided to retire at the end of the year. Since August of 1973, Mrs. Knott has worked to make the Mount de Sales library what it is today. When she first arrived, the book collection had been set up in Cavalier Hall on unpainted pine boards and concrete blocks. It is ironic that Mr. Michael Vullo, who is to become the new librarian at the beginning of the 1992-93 school year, was one of the volunteers who assisted in moving the books to the current library building. After three years, Mrs. Knott decided that she had to start over, and ever since she has worked to make the Mount de Sales library one of the best in Macon.

When asked about how she felt about retirement, Mrs. Knott said that she had very mixed feelings: glad because she would get a chance to do what she never had time for, and sad just because she was leaving. She plans to sew, knit, play with her grandchildren, travel as much as she can, and fittingly, READ. Mr. Vullo definitely has a tough act to follow and Mrs. Knott will be missed. But she's not going to disappear from Mount de Sales — she'll be back to check up on us every once and a while!

Wasn't it Yesterday?
Wasn't it yesterday
When we first started school?
Running around the playground,
Laughing and screaming like fools.
And wasn't it yesterday,
When we graduated from sixth grade?
We moved on to a bigger school,
And one of the first steps was made.
Wasn't it yesterday
When we were in the halls of junior high?
Going to our first dance,
Never thinking about saying goodbye.
And wasn't it yesterday
When our first day of high school came?
Pep rallies, football games, parties, and proms,
Part of our lives will never be the same.
And now the time has come;
The day is finally here.
Although we thought it would never come,
We are leaving our senior year.
And maybe sometime, looking back . . .
We will all laugh and say,
"Remember high school?
It seems like only yesterday."
— Colleen Lawrence

Love ya',
Karol

Billy and Mark,

Remember the Holiday Inn, Irrational acts, borrowed cars, and hotel security. I'm on my way back to the Party Shak, and if you believe that, you're stupid!!
Marcel

Mr. Dockrell,

See ya!
Mikey

Captain,

Beam me up, Scotty!
Mifum

Vinnie,

Well, we made it thru! We've been together for 5 years. I will never forget them. How could you? We're Italian. I appreciate everything you've done in the last 5 years more than you'll ever know. You've stuck by me thru good and bad times, and I'll never forget that. I wish New York would have worked out two summers ago. I WILL VISIT YOU. Just wait 'til Thanksgiving. Good luck at Fordham!
Ciao,
Mikey

Matt,

Thanks for everything, especially all of the laughs. I'm gonna miss you next year.
Love ya',
Karol

Amber,

Thanx for going to the prom with a ham like me. Sorry about the picture (my eyebrows have a mind of their own). It's been a great year; I'm glad I met you. Thanx, Angle, for the Introl! You're also very welcome for the picnic. It was my pleasure. Good luck in the future. I know one day you'll get your horses.
Love ya',
Mifum

Mikey,

Arrivederci,
Vinnie

Little Miss Makeup,

Thanks for being a really great friend. We've had good times and we've had bad. You live thru them. Don't forget the Braves game (nosebleed scabs) and JFK.
Love ya',
Mifum

Mrs. Tate,

They had to retire 7th period English after we finished taking it!
Love,
Mike Malto

Rosebud,

Having you for my last 5 months of school really made it special for me. You mean everything in this world to me, and words cannot explain how much I love you.
Love forever,
Pum'kin

Jason W.,

I've found the Blue Sky mine. I had a dream of you and your wife on a midnight drive, as I look on from the Crystal Ship. This is the strangest life I've ever known.
P.S. Ride The Snake

Drew and Amy,

I know you never went to the Braves game. I talked to Mike, and he said your mom wouldn't let you go. Oh well, it's behind us. Drew, good luck at Washington and Lee. Amy, good luck at wherever you plan to go!
Mikey

Dusty,

Fore!! My favorite word while playing golf. Thanks for allowing me to be in your presence on the golf course. I think I love the game of golf. Have fun at college, and when you come back home, look me up for some more golf lessons.
Ray

Ben,

Thanks for being such a good friend this last year of high school. I can't believe that this is it. This was a fun year. But on a lighter note! I have but one thing to say — L.M. (you know what this means). Good luck in college.
Ray

The 1992 Soccer Team,

Good Luck!
D.J.

Brian,

You ask why I'm late. Elvis stole my car, what's your excuse?
Marcel

Ray,

I had a great year! It has been fun. Have fun at Macon College. Remember L.M. Good luck! Keep in touch.
Your pal,
Ben Whitaker

Eric C-P,

Things to remember: Hole #8, Range balls. Taco Bell and Bubba. Oh, you still need to give me my $5.
Ben Whitaker

MacDaddy,

How 'bout them girls? — She looks like she's been in my mom's closet! — Why does he keep going to the bathroom? — Beep, beep. Your headlights are on. — Excuse me, but is that Marky Mark you're listening to? Well, it has been a swell one, and I wish you luck next year.
P.S. Be sure you and Stans stick to your motto, because it is EZer said than done.
Davis

Kat,

It's been five years since we first met. I still haven't figured out why your nose is always wet.

I've watched you in sports, and you always excelled.
But I'm always the one who hears tears when relationships fail.

Since I've known you, you have always been there.
I'll never forget you no matter where.

To the 1992-1993 soccer team,

I had fun. Thank you for the State Championship. It means a great deal. It is something I will never forget. Play hard, practice hard, and good luck!
Ben Whitaker

Scott Sheppard,

Things to remember: working on the computers during art. Me beating you up during free period, the Green Machine, Champ's weak truck, and my powerful Nissan. Good luck in the future.
Ben Whitaker

Chad McDaniel, Matt Skilling, and Brian De-Michael,

I leave the singing of the Madonna song "Holiday" on a Saturday morning going to McDonald's in Milledgeville.
D.J.

J.P.,

You have meant so much to me over the past 5 years! You are so gentle-hearted and funny, energetic and courteous. You seem to have it all wrapped up in one! I hope that you and Stephanie both have a very successful experience at Wesleyan, and that you will be very happy. Good luck in all that you do, and may God continue to bless you!
Love,
Alice

Mama,

It definitely loves its mama! Thank you for your endless support and love. You have taught me all about life and have shown me what it means to live for God. I am proud to have been your student for four years and am honored to be your daughter for life. You are a wonderful lady, and I hope that a dog will be all that it takes to bring you out of your funk! I love you!
Alice
P.S. I promise I'll come home often for tea!

Matt Brown,

I leave as many free rides as you want in the yellow thing that you now drive and a peanut butter and jelly sandwich.
D.J.

Shaggy,

I am so glad we got to know each other better these last two years. Spring Break was great! Please learn how to change a flat tire, and WATCH OUT FOR SNAKES! You have been a great friend, and I wish you the best of luck at Chatham College. Steer clear of any Calculus or Physics classes!
Love,
Fuzzy

Parakeet,

Thanks for being a good friend this year. I don't know how we all put up with you. Don't forget to write. I'll miss you. Moo!
Karol

Sam,

What's up? It's been pretty crazy, man. We've both had fun serving the community (ha, ha, ha). Later . . . bud.
The Human Bottle Opener

Mandy C.,

When are you going bowling? Thanx for everything. It's been great knowing you. I love you.
Kyle

Matt,

7 years?! I've known you that long? Well, it's been fun. Say hello to Murray for me (if he's still alive). Long live the Clayton Donaldson Show.
Kyle

Fuzzy,

It's been a fun four years, especially our junior year Spring Break. I still don't know how to change a flat tire. Maybe the next time we go to the beach you and I will both know when to go "over" or "under." And you won't have to worry about tan lines. Keep in touch!

Love,
Shaggy

Joanna,

It's been cool, babe. See you at the cruise! Give my best regards to the Renaissance Ashcan.
Love Always,
Kyle

Kelly,

It's been great knowing you, too. Let's get together this summer and go bother Mrs. Garvin!
Later, Babe.
Kyle

Amy Covey,

Cruise was AWESOME!!
Ruth

Mike A.

Hey! Somebody beam me up. Live long and prosper.
Psycho

Madame Robbins,

I remember when I came to this school in the tenth grade — I felt like a total outcast. But there was one teacher who always took the time to stop and ask me how things were going. One teacher whom I trusted to tell my feelings. One teacher who listened, and one teacher who cared. That teacher was you. Even though I was failing your class with flying colors, I still felt a special friendship between us. I know that we really haven't talked since then, but you definitely weren't forgotten. This is one student who will keep the memory of you with her for the rest of her life!
Toni

Veronique,

Out of all my friends, we've always had the best conversations. In each one I learned something new and fascinating about you. On the nights we were just bumming around, we made sure that we harassed someone (remember that beautiful letter we composed together?!). I know that we've spent very little time together lately, but I hope that this summer will change that.
I love you. Ver!
Toni

Amy (G-N-T), (F.A.F.), (P.A.B.),

Even though we have been friends for only a short period of time, I feel that we have been friends for years. I thought I knew you before we went to Florida, but it wasn't until then that I found out that you are not only the loud-mouthed cheerleader captain from school, but you are also a caring person who shares many common interests with me. For instance, we both seem to fall for guys named Steve and Sweet Roll. At least my Steve came with a ready-made family! Hail
I love you, G-N-T!
Baracuda

Beth (Co-cheesee),

You are the one who adds a little extra excitement in everything we do. I never know what to expect when we go out. Even though I sometimes feel embarrassed, you know I secretly like it. If it weren't for you, being the brave one that you are, one fourth of the adventures in my life wouldn't have taken place. That's why I know that I will never get bored of our friendship!
I love you, Dumbtall. (You've been promoted!)
Lola

Amie (Scarface),

Not even in our wildest dreams did we think that we would become such good friends. Thanks to one special guy (so we thought), we began to develop a friendship that would leave behind the best memories of high school life that anyone could ever ask for. Memories such as Scott, Natl, Kevin, Homecoming, Florida, Prom, workout, and many, many more that I could continue listing forever. One thing that amazes me about you is how well you know me. As if you were reading a book, you read my mind. I can only hope that I have touched your life the way you have touched mine.
I love you, Scarface.
Tawney

Clayton,
Allrightttt ... Is that spelled right? Oh well, who cares? The Marines are going to come and cut ... Well, nevermind. Alright, you just wait one minute please ... Long live the Knights of Vullot! It's been great knowing you these past few years. Keep headbanging! (No personal questions) and don't play with Mrs. K's toys. Mmmm ...
Kyle
P.S. Don't forget to feed Absalom.

Anne
Hello, fellow teacher's kid! I am very glad that we have had the opportunity to get to know each other so well. You are a terrific person! I would dare to say that you have contributed more to Mount de Sales and Macon than anyone else who has ever gone to this school. As much as we have been involved, it is hard to imagine that it is over, but the memories are great! We have shared a lot together, and I hope the memories you make at Emory are even more exciting. Good luck in all that you do — I know that you will make a name for yourself. Take care, and try to keep in touch!
Love,
Alice

C.
We have been friends for a very long time. Together we have gone from SPC to MDS and from uniforms to dress code. We've come a long way, baby.

During these thirteen years you have been there to cheer me up when I've been grouchy (which is very often) or depressed. We have shared and conquered many problems. I never could have made it without you, C. I hope that I was always there for you.

I know that we have changed. I know that we must continue to change after we leave, but I hope that the strength of our friendship only increases.

B

Anybody,
Has anybody seen a party around here?
Kyle

Angie J.,
Four years of Chorus — amazing. You have a wonderful voice so don't ever quit singing. Never forget: Literary, Festival, Nashville, and Mrs. W.'s flying Jewely.

"So, goodbye. Farewell. So long, forever. Bm-bm. Goodbye my Coney Island Babe!" But it better not be "so long forever." Keep in touch!
Love,
Cynthia

Anne and Mike A.,
FR was unforgettable. Star Trek VI was awesome. "We're approaching warp speed 6!" Anne, our honor cords didn't "go up in smoke" after all. We did make it through Calculus. Good luck in Atlanta and God bless.
Love,
Cynthia
P.S. I'm going to get some water.

Belma,
Remember eighth grade when we used to argue a lot? You always won and you always had the LAST WORD! Thanks I needed that, and I thoroughly enjoyed the arguing. You've been a great friend. Good luck at Xavier and all through your life. God bless.
Love,
Cynthia
P.S. No more Calculus or Physics!!!!!!

Jennifer P.,
You're one of the sweetest, funniest people I know. I will never forget our first yearbook deadline (1:15 a.m. for me, 4:30 a.m. for you). "My ears are burning!" We survived Calculus and Physics! YES! Keep up the pig noises!
I love you!
Cynthia

Alice,
I can't believe we've finally graduated from high school together. We've known each other since second grade. That's ELEVEN years! You're the best friend I've ever had, and you will always be special to me. Always remember: Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Brown, REACH, the decor at DaVinci's restaurant in Athens, and the Nashville Chorus Tour. Most importantly, never forget that I love you.
God bless,
Cynth

To Varsity Track,

I had a great time running with you guys this year. We really left our MARK! Jason, Brandon, Qerline — I'm really going to miss you guys.
Brian T.

J-Man,
I can't believe we're already through. I'm really going to miss you. We've got a lot of memories to keep us going. I hope we're able to stay in touch for a long time.
S. Lenny

Eric,
With my left foot I kick your nose. With my right foot I break your face. I'm an American. They still call me Bubba. Thanks for everything, my BEST man. A little snort there, son of son.
Bubba Pool

Slier,
We have had some great times through the years of high school. You have done a lot for me, and I appreciate it. Remember the Exxon parking lot? Well, we got Glover back to bed. He had his bulletproof vest on. We did so many things, but I can't seem to recall all of the details. Well, have fun at Southern. Just hit the Spur.
I love ya', Bud.
Bubba #11

Jay Ertel,
We had some wild times this year. Like, remember your land, my land, Lake Juliette, and sleeping in the Bronco at Rivoli Downs (freezing). Athens was great. I promise he is a senior (yeah, right). Well, there are many more excursions to come. Bubba and Jay's wild excursions. I will still be here next year, so there are many more good times to come.
Bubba Pool (The Ford Man)
To the Class of 1992,

I hope and pray that each one of us may find true happiness in life. Thanks for the memories. May God bless and keep you always. I love you all.
Cynthia

Melanie Koch,
Not another all nighter (well, what the heck. Let's go to Florida. Well, maybe Nashville). Always remember Lake Juliette and Tobesofkee, but first, let's tell someone where we are going and not be gone for four hours doing "nothing" but talking. Cajun Baby, Dixieland delight, Bubba shot the jukebox, I wanna Rock (right now), washing the cab and the Ford, mud riding, tearing my truck up, the rebel truck, Spur station, drinking water, country boy breakfast, talking my ears off, Toys 'R' Us, Auto Zone, No touch, Foon Max, Hollywood Studios, (19 and 22), Alarms, Boom, (Bazooka), veal parmesan, the cooler, haircut, Hey, Rick said so. Well, I'm sure there are more, but I can't seem to remember everything. But, I do hope there are many more memories to come. You're great! You deserve the world. Oh yeah, remember the poem.
Love,
Bubba #11

Ruth,
I just wanted to let you know how much you mean to me. You have done a lot for me whether you realize it or not. I wish for you that all of your dreams are fulfilled, and that you and Pat stay happy. I hope our friendship will continue. I'll still be here next year. I'm always here for you.
Love,
Bubba #11 (Bono rules!)

Kate,
We have been great friends for 10 years now. We have had some good times together, and I appreciate everything you have done. Please, be careful at Georgia next year, and keep in touch because you are a very special person. Don't ever let anyone tell you differently. Just remember 477-6049. I'm here.
Love,
Bubba #11

Dearest Erin (Yurnin' or 'A'),
We're so different. We're so weird. I can't believe we haven't killed each other, but we are still friends (really?). Peanut butter and Jelly sandwiches at 2 a.m., 5-hour phone chats, #43 rules, twisty, analytical worry wars. I gotta give you the humor award — you did brighten up a few of my days. Oh, the question about the kids is — yes. And don't call for more! You're a trip — Peace to the hip-hop nation.

Much love,
J

Dearest Kimmy,
Coopers, Coopers, Coopers. David, Chris, Matt, Bubba, Mario (Ewww!), Scott, etc. ... Spank the baby dives, hanging out the car window, bouncy dancing, watching guys watch Shawn, Doo-Doo Brown, I Wanna Rock Right Now, Good Vibrations, wristband removals.
Much love,
Swishy

Cathy,
A bag of pretzels with Joe propped up next to the stereo, a box of chocolate pop tarts — uncooked, mind you. 43 ... 29 ... 12 ... 10 ... 7 1/2 — nah, 7 minutes.
Much love,
J

Ronda,
How's life? The usual? We definitely need a talk again! You mean the world to me, baby! It seems like I always knew you would be there when I needed you. We need to go see Santa and ask for that Nintendo. Have a great time at school, and don't ever forget me! Call me anytime! I love you forever.
Ruth

Ronda, Kat, Amy C., Jenny, Julie, Meg, Jan-na, and Kate,
Well, what happened to our ritual? Everyone changed so much, and we just grew apart. I guess. Thanks for the years we spent together, and ya'll don't forget me! Good luck, and I love you.
Ruth

What is Hope? Hope is what gets me through the day. Without hope my life wouldn't be the same.
Cookie Monster

Katie,
Don't you forget me, Zygote, when you go off to the big university. Thanks for being there, baby! I know now our friendship can overcome anything with what we went through this year. I am sorry about the year we missed. Be careful! I love you forever!
Love,
Homo

Blueberry,
I have enjoyed being with you all of this year. I am glad I broke the record. You know how much you mean to me, and I would never do anything to hurt you. I hope your senior year is as much fun as mine was. You know I am going to miss you while I am at college. I know you will come visit me all the time.
I LOVE YOU,
William

To my lunch buddies Kim and Erin,
I have enjoyed being off probation for the first ... yes ... the first time my whole senior year. Thanks for the rides to fast food joints and back as quickly as possible so Erin wouldn't lose her parking place to Ray. Erin, I still don't know how you manage to gobble a hamburger and fries down and also have time to talk to us — all before getting back to school. Kim, I don't think I'll forget the Chinese fire drills and the "Hey, Babel" out the windows. Stay safe, and good luck in "ya'll's" futures.
Your other lunch buddy,
Melissa Clark

Pudgy Alchie Doodle,
Words cannot describe the thoughts that are going through my mind. Laughter, tears, smiles, and fears. We have seen it all. This year has been rough for both of us, but we toughed it out. Thanks for standing by me when I needed you. Don't worry, I haven't given up on you, yet! I was/am and always will stand by your side. I wish everyone truly knew what a wonderful and loving person you, Tracey Dawn Ross, are. Don't ever forget you have the 2nd greatest gift in the world ... ME ... God comes first.
My love and friendship always.
Your other 1/2,
Melissa Clark

Matt,
Thanks for all the laughs! I'll miss you.
Love,
Melissa C.

Sadie and Linda,
Best of luck to the best soprano and alto in the state! I love y'all!
Alice

Hey, Amie!
How about a date? Just kidding. It's been cool knowing you, and I hope to see you soon.
Love,
Kyle
P.S. John says he loves you.

Katherine,
"SHUT UP, Meg!" Katherine, I promise it wasn't me. I swear Jenny was coughing. Thanks for being the best Rob-Base partner. Always keep your S.C. handy! I love you! Meg

Kris,
What's up, bro? Even though I'm leaving you, I'll be back to see you every now and then. Don't forget me!
Love ya',
Erica

Arthur, Michael, C.J., Melvin, and Theo,
I'm going to miss you guys. Remember that all of y'all are special to me.
Love you,
Erica

Wendy Rutherford, Avril, Astwei, Foldra, Chauryce, and LaShanna,
I'm going to miss all of you. As you know, I had a good laugh with all of you. Remember the good times, and remember me always.
Love ya',
Erica

Erika and Nikki,
I had the best time with you all during free period. Without you two, I couldn't have made it through the semester. Now it's your turn to give me an invitation.
Love ya',
Erica

Matt,
Thanks for all the laughs! I'll miss you.
Love,

I had the best time with you all during free period. Without you, I couldn't have made it through the semester. Now it's your turn to give me an invitation.
Love ya',
Erica

Marcel,
Don't forget that in about 5 years we will open up the club. So, don't forget.
Ray

Slier,
I missed 6th period 2nd semester, but 1st semester was the best. You know I still owe you a frosty! I'll never tell Bubba about his red truck. Thanks for being my big brother. Do me a favor and come back home with a chick for Christmas!
I love you, Honey!
Meg

Vanessa,
Thanks for being one of the greatest art partners a guy could ever have. The soccer ball was the best. Thanks for keeping me informed on what happened the past weekend. Thanks for being a good friend. I will never forget what you did for me, and thanks for C.M.
Ray

Kevin,
To a friend who knows everything (J/K). Well, have fun at VSC, and remember that bad humor will always be with you.
Ray

To my other posse (Kim, Erica, Tarcia, Belma),
You are all the greatest, and I wish you much success. Tarcia, I hope you will always remember "our adventures" during 6th perod. Erica, thanks for always sharing your "long-distance" problems with me. Kim and Belma, I have one thing to say to y'all. SEE YOU AT MARDI GRAS.

Love always,
Melonie

Ana,
I am so glad that you decided to come spend one year with us. You have added more to MDS than anyone could have imagined. You are a delightful young lady, and I am proud to be your friend. I remember in the fall that I was very upset to have to take Spanish IV as an Independent study. I just knew that I would miss the opportunity to really get to know you. But, everything worked out, and we have spent a wonderful year together. I will never forget the trip to Atlanta, your spending the night with me, running to the mall at the last minute looking for black prom shoes, and everything else that we have done. Take care of yourself, and try to write often. I know your life will be very successful!
Much love,
Alicia

Karlem (POTS).
Well, sweetie, I can't believe that I won't get to see you everyday like I've been doing for the past two years. I'll miss seeing your face after all my classes, but I guess somehow I'll manage. I would just like for you to never forget me (of course, I won't let you) because I want ever forget you and ALL the things we've done together. It won't be the same without you. Always remember "I LOVE YOU."
Love,
Melonie (your #1 girl)

Bubba,
From 8th grade you have been a friend that most people may not want, but one who I loved having. Thanks for always being there, all the great times we had, and all the GREAT talks! See you next year in Macon!
I love you,
Ruth

Covey (Amy).
Your name is found in the dictionary under the word "friend." This is the only word that describes you because you have always been there for me whenever I needed you. I wish you much success in the future with S.R., or whoever makes you happy. Don't have too much fun at U.G.A. without me.
Love ya',
Melonie

To my girls (Sheva, Sledra, Neeka, CoCo).
You all mean the world to me, and without you I don't know what would have happened to me. You all have always been there to bail me out of trouble, whenever needed. CoCo, I thank you for the earring that I "borrowed" at that game. Neeka, thank you for being you and making me laugh whenever I needed to. Sledra and Sheva, thank you. Enough said. I love you ALL.
Love,
Melonie

Avril,
I don't know where to begin because there is so much I could say to you. I guess I'll just say that you are the sweetest person that I know, and I couldn't ask for anyone better. Stay sweet, and don't ever change. You will have to carry on the traditions that we have so faithfully established.
Love you, best friend,
Melonie

Cocheese, Scarface, and Baracuda,
Well, there is a lot to say and a lot to leave unsaid. I know how to read a map — even if we did go 200 miles out of the way. The Waffle Shoppe is the best, when 2:00am comes around in Panama City. Always remember Pineapple Willies. Stay away from Navy SEALs, especially the ones that are married and have kids. Make a vow to never get in cat (scratch) fights. Always treat guys named Preston and Trey with love — they earned it. Only play "I Never" if I'm at the Blender. Always read One with the Wind at the beach. Madonna is my idol. If worse comes to worse, I'll clean up the kitchen. You don't run out of hot water if everyone doesn't take their own showers. Remember the signs — Towels do not reserve chairs, people do never steal fool chairs from people from Wisconsin. And just for the final record — I was twice. I thought you guys would like to know.

Love always,
G n T
Kriston,
Some people wonder how we can be sisters and best friends at the same time. There isn't much to say, except the fact that we just are. I'm going away to college now, and I promise things won't change. I'll always be there for you — I'm only a phone call away! I just want you to remember that you'll always be my "little sister" and my best friend.
I love you,
Amy

Amie (PAB).
We have been friends forever. All I have to say is that sometimes I feel like your mother, but, that's just the way I am. Never, ever get in beat-up pickup trucks that contain cocker spaniels and that freaks drive. You're only asking for trouble. Guys named Bob are over 40 — no matter what they say. "Cherish" Madonna — she's it. We'll be friends forever — no matter what!
Love ya',
Amy (PAB)

Kimmy,
Well, what can I say? It has been hysterical! You know you're my other half — my evil twin. You always knew how to make me loosen up. Thanks for the great times. Remember the lamp incident? I don't think we could forget it. What about the time we went to the festival and Mrs. Garvin was driving. We didn't know if we would make it out alive. I wonder if that truck driver ever thinks about those crazy girls in the van who were writing messages to passing cars? Thank you for your friendship. It has been and always will be special to me. Never forget it.
Love always,
Jo

Jennifer Graves,
"The day's almost over." Much love and happiness. Keep smiling.
Sincerely,
JoAnna Amos

Kel,
You're the best. You've always been there for me. Your friendship is priceless. We've had some great times together. Remember prom 1991? That was so much fun planning our wonderful evening. You've helped me through my bad times, and you'll never know how much that means to me. I'll never forget our free period getaways to the "upper class homes" and our water. Wild Cherry is still the best. I'll always remember the burping contest — they were so funny. Kelli Pulghum, you are a fantastic part of my life, and I thank you for the many gifts of time and love you've given to me. I wish you love always, and luck in whatever you take on. God bless you.
Love always,
Jo

Jenny,
You've been the best at listening to my sob stories. I don't know how you've put up with me for so long. We've been through much — some good, some bad. But we were together, and that's what's important. Thank you for your understanding and advice. You'll never know how important you are to me. I'll never forget our many lunch adventures. We ate some good food, didn't we? Your laughter brings me great joy, and I thank you for your many smiles. Our good times aren't over. You will forever remain my dearest friend, the one who knows me best. I wish only the best for you. You're gonna be alright up north. I can feel it. God bless you. I love you. Take Boston by storm.
Much love,
Jo

(In a most perky voice):
Hey, Walt. Bye, Walt.
Hey, John. Bye, John.
Hey, Brad. Bye, Brad.
Much love,
Jennifer

Julie Greene,
We survived Physical Now here's to life without it!
Much love,
Jennifer

Eric,
Thanks for all the great times. I'll never forget the summer of '91 — laying out, golfing, and Mr. B. "Watch your spikes." Why do I always have to see Charlie? The pool games, the putt-outs, "making moonshine," playing the guitar, Pictionary champs, Hilton Head, our many bets (you still owe me Waffle House, "cause not only is it good . . ."), and study, shall I say tutor, sessions. I'm glad my driving finally rubbed off! Hot dog and egg sandwiches . . . egg McMuffins. (Who is Pedro, anyway?) St. Elmo's Fire, what is that smell? Never forget about Chi Chi and Sylvia — I never will. We've been through a lot — it hasn't always been easy — but we've always made it in the end. I love you.

Ronda

Amy,
Tell me what happened at Ruby Tuesday's one more time. What about the Big C? Not hardwick, not the right duck (the one on the left didn't help me achieve this one), but "Gulf station," the Jeep, the one you drove. Sugar Daddies, 15 m.p.h. in Lockchapee, turn up the radio, Row, Row, Row . . . It's Sam, do you know where your children are? In a Caprice Classic. Is there someone on the roof? Don't fall off — just climb in the shower. "Keep on knocking, but you can't come in," camels, Chick-Pil-A. "Jesus Loves You." Little You Guy bring me a dream — not a nightmare, — an alien. 1 + 1 = 3. Unhand me, woman, watch the mailbox, you bowling champ. Beta — "my people" — prophesies and stumps. Do you know how I can get a ride home? Take me to Summerwind, where's that sign? Reverse. Amy, Frat row, Ebenezer, the fair, bowling my trophy. Fresh air, 19 to a he's there. Who stepped in the syrup, anyway? It's a jungle in there. Coach and 6 — the waiter: Ruby T's — the waiter. Leo's (Amy, my napkin's on the floor.) Molesting Gators, dear Harcourt Brace Jovanovich . . . under the bed. Sammy . . . Pee Wee Herman Night. Jr./Sr. servers — steak knives, walking to subway. "Amy, have you seen Wally?" P.W.O.P. — Who's driving to Atlanta? When's the fish fry? See ya' in Brumby for four more years of crying, laughing, and hurting. You're my brown-eyed girl (yeah, lady, we're twins). I love you.
Ronda

Dearest Wilbur,
Thanks for being my buddy this year. Good luck at "Dixie Winn" with all those girls. Thanks for being my friend when other M-A-L-E-S didn't know how. Tevin's got it going on! Much love,
Jennifer

Dearest Gerd,
Thanks for being my other buddy. Much bliss to you and Natalie. Sorry I won't be there to be tickled anymore — it's been fun.
Much love,
Later Alligator

Toni (PAB).
We haven't been friends for that long, but I consider you one of my best friends, now. I'll be leaving soon, but, regardless, we'll always stay in touch. Always remember Cuco's, Mrs. Smith's Apple Pie, the beach, and Nu-way.
Love always,
Amy (PAB)

Vince and Drew,
I'm going to miss you guys next year with all of my heart. We'll all be going far away from home, so let's keep in touch. You two are the best friends that anyone could ever ask for. Always remember our 1 1/2 hour lunches, Pizza on Coleman Hill, The Pig, the waitress at Nu-Way with no teeth, and pasta will always be memories. I guess we don't have to worry about being dissed for Braves games anymore — we only have three tickets. Van Halen — any song — is what we live by. Riots in Atlanta, Bohemian Rhapsody, and Cracker Barrel. I never drive for lunch — my car probably wouldn't make it. Greg Olsen is my hero, and his wife isn't pregnant. I probably know more baseball stats now, than I ever will again in my entire life. Regardless of what you say, Mark McGuire needs to shave his goatee, and Berryhill his moustache. I love you two with all my heart! Never forget me.
Love always,
Amy

Kelli,
You are an angel! These last four years would never have been as special without you. We have both changed so much, but the friendship that we've formed will never be forgotten. Go . . . done a miracle in your life, and He reveals Himself to me everytime I look at you. You know how much I admire your generous and compassionate spirit. You have taught me how to look outside of myself and see the needs of others. I still need a lot of teaching! I will always treasure you in my heart and pray for your continued happiness and well-being. You know my wish for your future home life, and I'm so glad that you have learned what to look for in order to make my prayers come true. May the Lord bless you richly in the years to come, and may our friendship continue to grow. I love you dearly, and you are the best friend I could ever have!

Alicia

To the P.R. Class,
Nicaragua, general observations, true or false, R.C.'s, Anal's, Model U.N., Israel, Gumby, Burkina Faso, The Picks, Chill days, E-Street. "Let's be careful out there," bowling, wrestling, the Civil War, Dockrellisms, pasta, the other term paper, Zangarro, and "Hey! It's been real. It's been fun. But it hasn't been real fun." Anne, Cynthia, Amy, Drew, and the Mikes — Thanks for a great year! Thanks, Mr.D. Through it all, you're still THE BOSS!
Vinnie

Dearest Amber,
Rebma, Twinky, Unwrinkled flower, Cry Partner, Shopping buddy. Remember all the poems, Dairy Queen, Southlake (What's your phone number?), concerts — GQ. I love you! Stay ultimately true to yourself. Find yourself, and love what you see. "I say Hey, Hey, I feel alright — 4XI!"
Much love,
J (OJ's)

Tracey and Melissa,
Thanks for lunch. We have had great laughs. It's been fun.
Andrea

Dearest Jo,
I wish you all the braveness and endurance as you set out to fulfill your dream. The Navy doesn't know what a gem they have. Don't ever let another cloud your goals. Here's to finding decent M-A-L-E-S (in this lifetime?). Childhood playmates are the ones that prevail — peace to Florence Bernd, man. Thanks for knowing what makes me tick, even though at times we were superficially different. You'll always be there, deep inside. Let's pull each other to the surface every once in a while.
Much love,
Jenny
P.S. Never get into an unair-conditioned car during July in Macon, Ga. and drive to Macy's.

Mandy,
Hey, Skinny! You have always been such a sweet and friendly person, and I'm glad that during this year it has become obvious that other people think that, too. But what I think I like best about you is how wonderfully goofy you are. You have the best laugh that always puts me in a better mood. I wish I had just a little bit of your enthusiasm — somehow you always bring out the best in people. I'm going to miss you next year, but I'm sure we'll do things over the summer, and Kathryn and I will invite you to stay at UGA. We have had a lot of good times and I'm sure we'll have more.
Love,
Krista

Shannon,
I'm so glad you were a basketball manager with me because becoming so close to you has meant a lot to me. I think the only reason I went to practice was to spend time with you because we had so much fun. I loved the way we sat there and pigged out while they were working so hard. But we did get our exercise — shooting the basketballs (8 in a row), tap-dancing (remember?), and laughing so hard. There are so many other things — "Wow, look at the ceiling!" — "No, Shannon," talking about how much fun you had, taking a joyride in the Bluebird, being described as "weak" and something else, being told to shut . . . up, "he has his shorts pulled up," the temptation to make a whole bunch of noise before the region game, my "dress code causes bad luck" theory being proved wrong, and always talking about running out with the players but never doing it. Thank you for St. Simon's — I had a great time even though I did kind of mess up — you should have punched me in the nose! You always apologized for telling me what was bothering you, but I want you to know I'm always here to listen to your problems (and your complaining). Please don't forget about me because I won't forget about you.

I love you!
Krista

Kathryn,

Best friends since the 6th grade! That's a long time — Can you believe we still get along? I'm so glad we're friends — Who knows what I would be like if I hadn't met you — I hate to think about it! (But don't let that go to your head!) Remember how hyper we used to get at Sacred Heart? We have matured so much since then (we have???). We've been through a lot together — good times and (just a few) bad times. The swings at recess, reading class with Mrs. Engels (whatever happened to that horse?), Krista Cranberry, Kaky, the "Kit-Kats," rides in the Aerostar, making refrigerator cookies, Caesar growling in the middle of the night, trick-or-treating 'til 16 (don't worry — we still look 12), ninth grade phone calls, NO! — I don't want to go out with him! — then, always later — I wish he would ask me out, our bet (you owe me $20), losing my way to your bathroom, "all book-smarts, but absolutely no common sense," Greencard — the worst night of my life, realizing we shouldn't care about "them," St. Simons — "I feel kinda dizzy," and now, graduation. I know you're excited, but aren't you just a little scared? What I'm not worried about is whether or not we'll have fun together at UGA. You've been such an important part of my life, and I hope that 20 years from now we will still be best of friends.

Luv ya,
Krista

To you,
From Me With Love!

Ames (Wally, Corey, Petunia),

The best words to describe us are eating and spying, Ruby Tuesday's, Dunkin' Donuts, Chick-Fil-A, Rivoli Ridge, and Amelia Island were so much fun. Remember doughnuts in the Volvo, Jamie and all the people we met in Amelia? Dove Bars, tying our shoes, our boys of summer, your reckless driving, Marvin and his guns, skipping church, and everything else we've gotten ourselves into. You are the best brother a guy could have! I'm glad we'll be together next year! I love you! Kate (Beav, Corey, Porky)

Hanna Rae,

We have had some of the best memories together this year! Never forget LET'S GET ROCKED and JUMP in Panama City 1992, purple abnormality elephantitis opossum weasel eyebrow chin, Harley motorcycles, dancing at El Dorado, Peach County guys, "What about Ashley?!" long kiss lists, macaroni and cheese, Brian Hanse's crazy crack, I say what?, Bon Voyage! Thank you for joining me in "our little world." Keep my secrets, and I'll keep yours forever. I love you so much!
Kate Kay

Ronda, Amy, and Kat,

Do you recall a night at Beta's?, the flat tire, a spaghetti noodle, five squeezes, the fight at my house, and really going home? I don't.

Tracey and Erica,

Advanced Biology has been fun. No, I don't have any candy! Erica, did you do your ... ?
Kim

Andrea (a.k.a. Pee Wee — ha,ha),

It's been great having you as a friend. We have been through a lot, lately, more than I can say! All I keep thinking about is my life flashing before me as I screamed — WATCH OUT FOR THE YELLOW THING!! (Westgate). Do us all a favor — go to driving school! I've got to say TURTLE (ha ... ha). It's been fun riding around and going off (out) together. I'll never forget Sally's parking lot and ERIC! Your friendship means a lot to me, and I won't forget the talks we had. Don't forget I GOT THE BIOLOGY BOOK!! Good luck in the future and the choices you have to make (soon). See ya' in the summer — no matter what!!
Love,
KAS

Heather (a.k.a. S.F.),

I hope you know how much you mean to me — more than words will ever say. You are more than my best friend. You're like a sister to me, and I would do anything for you. I'm gonna miss riding to school with you since that's the only time you're quiet. I have created a monster almost worse than me. Don't ever take "NO" for an answer, settle for less, or let someone else tell you what to do. All the memories we have! I'll never forget the green thing and the guys we watched ... Keith (slaveboy), David (girly), Mark (dough-boy), Joel (wild thing), Stacy (cutie), and now Bob (words can't describe). Too bad they are my second brothers whom I love dearly! I'll never forget Bloomfield and the guys, the POOL, or the times at the mall. Lately, you have been getting lots of things on me — especially the phone conversation at 4:30am. Hurry up, and turn 18. Who knows? By then, your curfew may be 9:00pm. Thanks for all the good times, and for being there!!
Love always,
Kim (a.k.a. P.S.)

JoJo,

We have been friends for 6 wonderful years, and I loved every minute. Thanks for being there when I couldn't talk to anyone else. I'll never forget sneaking to Bloomfield. Good luck in the Navy. Call me when you get some leave.
Love,
KAS

Melissa and Erin,

My lunch buddies. O.K., I'll get back in the car and stop yelling. Well, Erin, we finally found the right buddy, and school's out. Oh well! I'm glad, Melissa, that you got to come — even if it was only for the last few months. Hey, pass me a ... Erin, what would I have done without you. Melissa, I still can't believe my brother let you drive his truck after what he told us. I'll never forget that night and the conversation. Thanks for listening — It really helped. I'll see y'all at MC. Keep in touch. Melissa, don't forget our outing when you turn 18. Erin, clean out your CAR!
Love,
KAS

Jenny Flewellyn (Fred),

Thanks for helping me understand everything in the past. I couldn't have passed tenth grade without you there tutoring me. You have been a great friend.
Thanks,
Andrea (Barney)

Kim Saunders (Saw Bones),

We have been through a lot together. I'll never forget Westgate, the oil, the Nelson's, and the Biology book. We've had a blast in the past. Stay out of trouble, and avoid the yellow things.
Good luck,
Andrea

Billy,

Brent says, "Hi!" NOT. Don't forget. 2 points.
Your friend,
Andrea

Jennifer Kim,

I'm glad I got to know you this year. You have been a great friend. Thanks for listening to me.
Andrea

Ellen and Steph,

Well sisters, I've got to leave you now. You had better behave. You two have been great the last four years, and I love you both. Stay away from the kerchiefs and egomania. Ellen, you are one of my best friends, and I love you. Even though we fight a lot, I still care a lot about you. Behave while I am gone and am not overprotective. Steph, you are a diff! Stay away from egomania (I've got to be Polish my trophy) (how cheesy). You are a great friend, and I wish you were my sister. If you ever need advice, you can call me.

Drew

Vinnie,

Go, Braves! Go, Rams! Go, Generals! I told you you'd get in. You are a great guy, and don't you forget it. We've had a great time these last two years, and you'd better have me up to New York to see some Knicks' games. Don't forget, Juan Berengue ... Relieve! Pasta Fest, basketball at your place, Braves games, Trivial Pursuit, F.R. term paper, USA Today, Rotisserie league baseball, strikeouts is a bad stat, Van Halen, and 'cause I can do it right. Keep in touch, and have a great time at Fordham!
Drew

Danny,

You did it. You told me that you'd get a scholarship to play baseball, and you did. We've been through a lot together, and you've always been a great friend. Hey, let's get chased again. I'll never forget your "nervousness" in my room. What a mess! I'm glad that we were both Auburn fans, and that we got to go to the LSU game together. Have a great time in Columbus next year, and you better do well if I am going to drive all the way from Virginia to see you. You are a great friend, and I hope that we stay close over the years.
Drew

JoAnna and Kelli,

Art has been fun with JoAnna's seriousness and Kelli's cutting up. We got in trouble many times for laughing too loud. It's been real.
Andrea

Amey R.,

We finally made it. Just think, next year we will both be in Lexington. We've been through a lot together, but we're still friends. I'll never forget Neanderthal Man. I hope we can keep in touch while we are in college, and I hope M.G. leaves you alone! Geez, how cheesy (What does that mean, anyway?). This summer you, Vinnie, and I will have a great time at all the Braves games. I hope you get your Jeep or whatever. You've been a great friend, and I love you.
Drew

Mr. McLachlan,

We have only one thing to say to you. Next time you are trying to find the moon through a telescope, remember to take off the lens cap first.
Cathy and Alice

To the wacky E-Street Morning Crew on WBH2,

Well, thanks to all of you — mornings were never dull. I never knew if I was going to walk into homeroom to see writing and drawing all over the board, or hear Matt carrying on. Never forget "We have J.P., and you don't!"
Love,
Cathy

Jennifer Price,

One of my French IV classmates, I'll miss you. We've made it through French III and IV, Trig., and Calculus together, and had a few laughs along the way. I wish you all the best in college and beyond. Thanks for putting up with us in homeroom, and thanks for always being there and being willing to listen.
Love,
Cathy

Kevin,

The man so popular Right said Fred made a song about him. See ya' in the future.
Johnny

Linda,

Next time we go somewhere like the prom, make sure that Justin has the right colored cumberbund. We have to play tennis sometime ... and next time I drive out to Warner Robbins, you better not be sick. Don't forget to bring napkins to lunch.
Cathy

To the Senior Honors English class of 1992,

It's been fun. I'll always remember our Trivial Pursuit party, although the "winners" didn't really win. Good luck in college!
Andrea

You are one of my best friends, and, although we had a falling out last year, we are now back together. I'll miss the times we've had and the letters, bowling, and Algebra I class.
Your pal, John

Coach Stocumb,

I just wanted to tell you that I am going to miss our gossip sessions. You never did find me a date, since you never approved of the ones I chose. I am going to miss the store runs to find sunflower seeds. Kat and I just wanted to say we are sorry for getting you in trouble, and getting that great pink sign on the door.

Ashley Worley,

Where can I start? I swear I could write a book about us. Somehow P.C. always seems to stick out in my mind. Jerome, Jazzmen, and Pookie Queen. "I scooped him!" Rabbit, Bam Bam, Spencer, and hold me back, Jack! Always remember Sunday afternoon drives and hot fudge cakes. You are my BOOP! Thinking way back, who ever got Bo Duke? I just want you to know how much our friendship means to me. Thanks for always being there. Stay close. I love you.
Janna

Amber R.,

You have never failed to cheer me up with your smiles and hellos. I'm glad we've been friends for the past years, and I will miss you dearly. I wish you the best of luck in the world. Thanks for everything.
Your secret admirer since 8th grade.

Kate,

This year has been great! I think Spring Break was the most fun I have ever had. I say, I say, don't you think so? It was great — dancing with the guys from Fort Valley, riding Harley's down the strip, Scampy's, Maverick and Icepick, Jeremiah and Len (the leeches), driving to Destin on a whim, the Jello that didn't stay down, "Under the Bridge," and the greatest, dancing in the rain. I will never forget that trip, and I will NEVER forget the things we have shared. You know me inside and out. Sayonara, Sweetie!
I love you,
Janna

Dana Cowart,

I'm trying to keep in mind that you will be starting your junior year when you read this. (At least, I hope so.) I don't know what our relationship will be like, but I hope we will be as close as we are now. I want to thank you for all you have "taught me." I wish you lots of luck with soccer. Try to stay out of trouble!
I love you,
Janna

Erin,

What can I say that hasn't already been said? I think I shall miss you the most of all, because it seemed that everywhere I turned you were there behind me. You have always been there for me, and I don't know if my saying thank you would be enough. Stay true to yourself, and never let your guard down, and you shall go far. The best wishes to you.
Love,
Jonathan Lloyd Minnan
P.S. Tell Andy I'm not a Nadsel.

Jason M.,

Track has been fun, and I think you and the mile relay team have left a legacy behind. I look back at all the times we've had, and I can truly say — It's been fun.
C-ya', and K.I.T.,
Johnny

Jennifer K.,

I will always remember sitting in front of you in Economics and your obsession with you-know-who. It's been fun bugging you in homeroom this year, and I only wish I could do it again next year. You're the best.
John

Cathy,

WBH2 crew member #3. Despite my first impressions and what people may think you really are a wonderful person, and I'm glad I got to know you this year in Dockrell's home-room. Come down from Pennsylvania and see us sometime.

Johnny

The Janis Joplin reincarnate.
It's been fun this year in art, and I'm only sorry I didn't get to know you sooner. You are a great person, and I'll miss you.
The GNR Rap John H.

Jaime.
To the odd one of our lunch group. You're a great person to be around, and I'm glad you walked over to me that sunny day in the library and sat down.
L-ya,
John

Mandy C.
I just wanted to confess of my everlasting and undying love for you. I've known you and bugged you for 5 years, and you've been good to me. You are a good friend to have.
John

Amie Allen.
I love you.
John H.

Kyle.
This year is the first year we actually tried to get to know each other. Last year, too, but, especially this year. I will most definitely miss you in any math class I take. I will miss the picnics in Trig, and Algebra II. I will never forget the pulverized pop tart you gave to Mandy. Thanks for the tension breaker. Good luck with the CHICK(en)S.
John
P.S. I'll see you in Pepsi class.

Jeffrey and Ashley Spires.
The day my little sister told me about you two (at St. Peter Claver) I knew the world was in for it. You guys always made me laugh when we saw each other. Thanks, and good luck. Best wishes. God bless.
Sincerely,
JoAnna Amos

Karol and Amber R.
Thanks, you two, for the laughs we've had. Your friendships will be kept close to my heart forever. I wish you both the best and much love. God bless.
Love,
JoAnna Amos

Amanda Mandell.
Thanks for your sweet smiles and nice "hellos." They made my day many times. Good luck, and God bless you.
Sincerely,
JoAnna Amos

Clayton.
We've come a long way since our cup ball days in the first middle school ever at MDS. You and a handful of others are the last of a great dynasty and the end of an era. Once you guys leave, this school will never be the same. Thanks for all the impressions — especially your best since V-man, S.J. I think you have given Angle as well as all of us some good laughs. Keep it up, because if I ever make it in the film industry, I'm going to need someone just like you. See you sometime in the future.
John

Mrs Washburn.
Thank you for some wonderful memories — from literary competitions and All-States to turning pages for you at Vineville. You have been a tremendous support and inspiration. I appreciate the countless number of hours you have put into the music program at Mount de Sales. The entire school and half of Nashville have been blessed by your efforts! Your talents continue to amaze me, and I am proud to be able to call you my friend!
Much love,
Alice

To the Class Of 1992.
How do I say goodbye to what we had? The good times that made us laugh always remain. I thought we'd get to see forever, but forever is gone away. It's so hard to say goodbye to yesterday.
I don't know where the road is going to lead. All I know is where we've been and what we've been through. If we get to see tomorrow,

I hope it's worth all the wait. It's too hard to say goodbye to yesterday.
And I'll take with me the memories to be my sunshine after the rain. It's so hard to say goodbye to yesterday.
— Boys II Men

Jason Billy.
You know who you are, and you know who I am. You and I have been in and out of favor with one another since our freshman year. I just want to take this chance to thank you for all that you have done for me. You have helped me become the much stronger, yet more sensitive person I am now. I'm sorry for all the hurt we have caused each other, but we are much better people for it. Always remember the "Three." Time heals all wounds, and our friendship proves it! We've been through so much, but no matter what happens, I'll always love you. Keep smilin', "Gorgeous!"
I love you,
Me

Jay Kaye.
Jensys! What does that mean? "I remember WHEN!" July 26, those video memories (thanks for a letter of acknowledgement, guys!), and chanting in the rain. We started our roller-coaster of a friendship in the 8th grade. I'm sorry that we did not become close again until the very end. Now I'm going to miss you even more! "Why is he always smilin'?" (Jordy K.). GOOD LUCK IN BOSTON! I hope that all your dreams come true! Peace to the Hip-Hop nation! "Don't forget your mace! I love you! GOD BLESS."
Ar.

To next year's basketball teams.

REPEAT!!!

Lamonte Askew

Piper.
Little girl (or is that woman?), you mean the world to me. Tragedy brought us together, but the good times have kept us together. I'll never forget the "fearsome foursome," talking to you and Gil about all my problems, your date with Kyle, and all our heart to heart talks (our B. sessions). Thanks for the memories! Stay straight, good luck, and never forget who you are. "Seen any good movies lately?"
I love you!
LaWanda

Moo.
I hope you have a hoe down time in North Goglia. Don't do too much cow tipping' up dare. And, by all means, Raise Hay, Karol Kelly (or is it Kelly Carol?).
Love,
Nique, Parakeet, Vair, Veronique, Ubaquarian

Melissa H.
I really feel close to you — which is more than I can say for most people. I loved all of the deep, original, demented, warped, psychotic, neurotic, manic depressive, schizoid, quirky, male bashing, awesome conversations! Next time we have one of those interesting conversations, let's go to Boone's Farm. I think that would make it more intense. I'll never forget you, and I hope we'll see each other again. We'll have to meet up in L.A., our city of Angels! 'Til then ...
Love,
Veronique Fessard

Suzie Q.
Enjoy your senior year! It flies by before you realize that it is one of the greatest times of your life. I'll always remember the "Lamarca Pool Hall," NK videos, Glen (me — you = blue) and every love you experienced. Next time you come out to see me in "Bumble," don't back down the driveway! Tell Jimmy to get off the phone.
Love ya,
Erin

KAS and Missy.
My lunch buddies. Who can forget cruisin' to Krystal's and Wendy's for lunch? "Give me one of your c . . ." "Can I have a fry?" "Anybody gettin' anything?" and, of course, "GET BACK IN THE CAR!" Don't party with too many midgets! Stay cool, and we will party at Macon College next year!

Love.
Erin

Kelli.
I know you so well that I can verbalize what you are thinking. It seems to me that you and I have been through it all. I'll always remember the "Three." Thanks for all the heart to heart conversations. Your help and guidance are better than anything any therapist can do for me. Stay straight, and good luck with Brandon! Your favorite fallen angel loves you. Peace and happiness,
Erin

Veronique.
How many days are there in the month of April? I'll miss our 5th period talks and gossip in the chapel! Don't mess around with those scums! They just want to mess with your head! Be cool!
Love,
Erin

I hope whoever gets your Math IV book has a "sweet" year like you did. I'll just call you Mr. M&M. You're fantastic, and I thank you for the smiles you've given me and the laughs we've had. Best of luck.
Love,

Billy.
It's been wonderful. You truly are a gem, Billy. Never change. Thank you for your dear friendship. It will always be remembered. I wish you love and the best of life. God bless you.
Love always,
Jo

Angle.
I want you to know that you have probably been my best and most loyal friend in the past few years, and I love you a lot. I might not be alive or at least in a halfway good mental state if it weren't for your help in my life. I especially want to thank you for your help in the he who, me who, she who situation. Always remember: Waffle House, Denny, the Hyundai, Millard's, "thrown out?", summer of '90, literary trips, chorus trip, Buffett, John Hyatt, Clay's J.S., and everything else. I love you.
Matt

P.S. Polly. I'm really going to miss you, too, and the hot tub is permanently forgotten . . .
NOT!

Clayton.
I'll miss ya', man, and your GREAT taste in music. Never forget: the cartoon festival, chorus trip, J.S.'s autograph, and of course, long live MURRY.
Matt
P.S. Don't go changin' . . . EH (that was for you, Omar).

Jared.
Miss me much? I'm always here, man. I want you to remember the time we've spent together. Do you remember: Motorola, Braves games, bonfires, Jason's apartment over the garage, WH probation, Stan, Lena, and the gang, "Boats, Beaches, Bar's Bailards," Buffett '91-'92, parrot head madness, the Movies Blood Diner, "the weather is here, wish you were beautiful," BMW surfline after the prom, Joel WH pickles, and Denny Axman. I love you a lot if you read this, ya' little nerd. I'll miss ya, Jared.

Matt

Sadie, Michelle, and Shana.
"Don't drink the water." I'm glad I got to know y'all even if I was a little late. I really love y'all, and I'll miss ya' and those great Warner Robbins slumber parties. Captain M. will live forever. "I'll be there."
Love,
Matt
P.S. Ginger, I hope to still see ya' through your estranged other, but in case I don't, keep driving Capt. Kirk crazy. I'll miss ya'.

Matt.
You've managed to keep me in stitches all through our years together. Like I told you, I should be well prepared for whatever the Navy dishes out because if I could take your craziness, I could take anyone's. Thanks for the training. Your friendship will remain in my heart forever. Don't ask where your joke will remain. I love you. Best of luck. Keep on singin' (MR. MATT ABLE A.K.A. JIMMY BUFFETT).
Love always,
JoAnna

My homeroom buddies.
John and Erin, I want ya' to come over every morning and keep me company for the rest of my life. I'll miss y'all.
Love,
Matt

Chris.
I wish I had gotten to know you better before this year. I really feel comfortable talking to you. I'm glad I'll still be wld' ya' next year. Love,
Matt

Christy.
Call me when Mrs. Peery has that nervous breakdown. I'll miss you, but always remember I'm your pal. I also have copyright rights to sprig o' hair.
Love,
Matt

All my friends in low places.
Remember me all the time. And keep me there in your mind. I'm always here — that ya' know. Just gimme a call. One day I'll show.
Bye,
Matt Able

Julie.
You have been a good friend through the years. I've always had a great time whenever I've gone off with you. I'm glad that I had a person that I could talk to who understood my problems. I hope we still stay close even though we are going to different colleges. You'll have to come visit me often! Please be careful, and take care of yourself!
I love you,
Jenny

Piper.
It's been four long years. Am I really leaving? It better not be a dream. I'll miss seeing you, Jared, Bill, Heidi, Shannon, Chris, Polly, etc. everyday. Tell Tiffany I said hello, and give my best to Janis. See you this summer. I love you, Matt, Chris, Brad, and Gerdine.

Love,
Angle

John.
It's been great, man! It's been four years of Mrs. Garvin, sleeping in class, drawings of teachers (oops), and "drinking in Pepsi class." The picnics in Trig. were great. Anybody for chicken? Cluck!

Later,

Slurp

P.S. Tell Bob hello for me, and don't eat any old pop tarts.

Karol,

Cows are #1. Atlanta, Hyndal, Will you go to the mall with me? I finally got my drivers' license, the other one, Ashley B., he's only 14.

Angle J.,

We've had our ups and downs and our differences in the time we've known each other, but you have always been a great friend. Now, on a different note, when are you going to tell us which of your two boyfriends you love the most? I must admit, this has been the most excitement we've had since Laura Palmer.

(J/K).

John

Cynthia

Chorus, soprano I, the best, graduation, would you please hurry up?, I can't stand this song, is it almost over?, we're outta here.

Love,

Angle

Kelli,

I'm glad you ditched that Darren, Danny, Darrell, Derek guy. Never could get that name right, could I? Remember all those nights of studying that got us absolutely nowhere, all those meaningless notecards that we needed a magnifying glass to see and Einstein to understand. I hope you make it through Psychology 101, and when you do, come back and treat Darryl R. for paranoia. Untill then.

Love,

Valr

Jared,

From 1992, dinner, coupons, Norman, the flowers are beautiful, Denny, I will always love you, gum, only two years left.

Love,

Angle Joiner

Kelthle,

I just want you to know that you have been a great brother over the past 14 years, even though there have been times I thought you'd drive me insane. While I'm at Southern, I'll probably still hear you saying, "What's up there, Big Kat?" And just because I'm going to be away next year, don't think that you can take over my room and clothes. You'll never know when I might decide to make a surprise visit one weekend. Seriously though, you really mean a lot to me, and I'm going to miss you next year. Good luck in everything you do, and if you're lucky, you'll turn out like me. I love you, Katherine

Wait,

Hi, there! I would like to — oops! Wrong message to the wrong person. What can I say, man? It's been 5 extremely long years. It's been a most excellent journey from 8th grade to senior year. Freshman year I started on my sense of humor. So it was a little dry then. It's a lot better now — NOT! Sophomore year — Ahhh — sophomore year. Need I say more? Junior year was the kicker, and senior year the touchdown. It has definitely been a year and a half this year. In a way it parallels the sophomore year. Over the years, we've both won and lost and moved on. Here's a few things to keep in mind. Our favorite comedy Texas Chainsaw Massacre III, the spilling of the M&M's at Young Guns II, the sock (bring it back, and I'll burn it), Chad and his cars, us rolling your car at Freddy's Dead, "Hurry up, Mom. We're going to be late. We got 5 minutes", "I should be getting my license soon," and our favorite "It'll be ready by next month." Have a fig newton and a smile. Your punching bag tag-a-long turned friend-with-an-attitude,

John

P.S. Where's the five bucks you owe me? P.P.S. You remember that charming young woman who was recently in an Aerosmith video — "Sweet Emotion" — Well, she's waiting for you — Billy.

Chris,

I love you, Charlotte, Satan, just like a brother to me.

Love, your sister,

Angle Joiner

Megan,

We heard you wanted to know who murdered your sea shells. Well, guess what? We confess we threw it off the balcony, and it landed with a thump. It was the one found behind the hot tub because we missed our target. Oh, and we were talking to Wandsley the other day, and he said that Chelsea was a woman. Always remember QVC moccasins, Oprah, and your great ability to tie shoes. "And now back to the question. Why are they so BIG?"

We love you,

Ames and Kat

P.S. "MEG, WILL YOU PLEASE SHUT UP!"

Matt,

I've known you for 6 years which makes you my oldest friend here at MDS. I think what I'll remember most about our time together are the negotiation, retreat 1988, Sr. Helen's homeroom, and all the times you gave me the silent treatment. I shall remember this year the most: the BH2 mowing crew, the attacks on Gumbi, seeing how close to insanity we could drive Mr. D. in the mornings and activity schedules. I shall miss that and 2nd lunch the most and from this year especially the stories you could read or tell us. I think just the phrase "2nd lunch" sums it up. K.I.T. Statesboro ain't that far away so I'll be seein' ya'.

Later, man

John

Bubba,

I've put up with you for 3650 days and it's actually been fun. You better not forget our songs from long ago ("I Think We're Alone Now" and "Could've Been"), our long road trip to Fort Valley, Jr/Sr, Hello, McFly are you in there? You so nasty, being a grouch, and all of our long talks (like at the Archery Range). I hope we stay this close forever. I'll continue to be your best as long as you don't cut your hair anymore. Thank you for all the memories! I love you!

Kate

Wendi, Ben, and Al,

ARIZONA or BUST!!!

Love you, guys!

Jenny

Rick,

Thanks for being such a great brother, even though I know you can't wait for me to leave! STAY OUT OF TROUBLE!!

I love you,

Jenny

Katherine,

I'm so glad that we are going to be roommates at Southern. This will be quite an experience. I couldn't have a better person to be my roommate! Thanks for all the memories since 8th grade! You have been one of my greatest friends throughout the years.

I love you!

Jenny

Slier,

Thanks for always being a great friend to everyone. You always know when to make me laugh. Thanks for making free period so exciting. I'm singing at your funeral!

And always remember to BEWARE OF BLACK LACE!!!

Love,

Jenny

Tawney (D.),

I couldn't of made it through the year without you. You were my shoulder to cry on and I have so much to thank you for, where do I begin? Scott Mayfield — thanks . . . but no thanks! Never forget . . . the blue house, Kevin, military men, hot tubs, "Is that my belt?", our gold's men, Nate (not), Kim (27), "I'm telling, you, right now!", "your cool," and "I'm so mad, I'm just going to squeeze my fist so I don't kill her." "Is my thigh broken? Hurry call sweetroll, that's the only way. It can be healed!" I love you and wish you all the luck in the future (what future?).

I love you!

Alme

Kim Hull,

I'm looking forward to living with you next year. We're gonna have a great time!

I love you,

Alme

Kat,

I could write a whole book about our good times since kindergarten. We have been best friends for a long time. Remember powder fights, Riverside, spring bread in St. Simons (Dustin), that hole in your pocket at Kroger, first attempts at driving a stick uphill and at BK, the hot tub, the Beaver, dancing in Matt's kitchen, making faces, not one, not two, but three! I know because I love it, the Joker, July 4 at St. Simons, DS, TH, TC Chad 13, and all of our memories with our beaus! Thank you for always being there for me and listening to my deepest, darkest secrets! I love you so much! We are going to have a great summer!

Kate

Karol Kelly,

DOOR!!! "How are your cows doing?" You've made me laugh a lot this year. I truly hope that Young Harris works out for you. I'll miss you!

Amber Rogers

Mike Malto,

I honestly thought that Canadian Goose had you. Why don't we watch the Home Improvements show? Watch out for those bushes while playing frisbee. Enjoy your next 17 years of school at Mercer!

Amber Rogers

J,

I believe I saw you a total of 30 minutes this year. Remember when I was at Georgia Tech with The Macon Coliseum. Don't fall off any docks or boats any time soon! I'll miss you when you go off to the big city. I hope that you will be happy. Good Luck!!!

Amber Rogers

Class of '93,

Just when you think things can't get any worse, they will! Just ask Coach Davis . . . If he's not asleep.

Amie Allen

F.A.F., P.A.B. (Amy Roman),

We've been friends for 4 years. We've gone our separate ways, but now our paths met again this year. The beach really let us with some great memories. Steve, NC state, Q-n-T, Preston, "you ol' luck boy," your abnoxious laugh, "Who do I like — mors.r.?" All I ask of you is that you don't forget the good times we've had. You are a very bright girl and I know you'll go far in life. Strive for the very best and don't forget . . . go to church!!! Never forget me!

I love you,

Amie

Love,

The 1992 Softball Seniors

Jo,

What are we gonna do next year when we don't have anymore free — periods to spend with each other? I'll probably begining project of counting how many sparkling waters a person must drink before their brain cells stop functioning! Thanks for the great memories that I have of you — our free period rendezvous, our tours of "upper class" Macon, our tainted sparkling water, AP Art "with an attitude," your vigorous mission to keep our art drawer spotless, your roller coaster love life, (and always letting me put my 2 cents in!) last years foursome prom, your sweet advice about everything, mainly Derek and Brandon, etc. . . . "where would I be without you in my life?" Definitely not here that's for sure. You have been so much fun to be with those last few years! Thanks for keeping me straight! Good luck in the Navy — you'll make me proud no matter what you do — even if you decide to make a career as a garbage woman. I love you!

Kel

Coach Davis,

Sorry, I ate your steak!!!

Love,

Me

Big Guy,

Just think . . . you will be prince of the house next year. You will even be able to use the phone whenever you want. Remember the tango and all the dumb stuff we've done. Thank you for teaching me how to fight. Those techniques will be useful next time! You know you mean more to the world to me, and don't ever forget it! I love you!

Kate

Ruth,

We have been through a lot of ups and downs these past four years. This is the first year we haven't had every class together. Remember picking on Billy in Mrs. Relchert's HR, Biology with Mrs. Piro, rolling up pendola, eat gizzards, zygo, New Year parties, hate sessions, sneaking out with Jeff and Eric, driving Bryan's car over that huge bump, that guy in your backyard (was he really there?), J.F., C.C., spring break in St. Simon's (thank you for taking care of me), don't look at our ankles, last summer's sixsome, first dates, getting chased by Matt's horses, and very long nights on the phone. I have really missed you this year. You are the best friend in the world. I love you!

Kate

Karol,

Hey, baby! Did we have fun in Stat. or what? What would we have done without Kim reminding us of how privileged we should feel to be in that class! I think, by far, that was her favorite class!

Thanks for your unique personality and always making me laugh! Remember when we snuck into you know where! That'll be a memory we can always share together. I wish you all the luck in the world with college! You'll do fine and fit in real well! Thanks for everything. I'll miss you!

I love you,

Kelli

Jay,

Where to begin? I guess one of my greatest memories is our first real date when we went and sat by the lake in the gazebo. That will never be forgotten! Other memories include plenty of moonlight walks on the golf course. Six Flags, visiting Southern, our one year anniversary, getting lost in Atlanta with Katherine and Brett and then with my parents, many evenings dining at our favorite — The Players Club, Valentine's Day, the day you came home from Colorado, lots of heart-to-heart talks, the Days Inn at St. Simon's when Katherine would not shut up, Ben and Jerry's, Victoria, and the thought that we will be spending many more moments together at Southern! What would I do without you? Always remember that I love you!

Jenny

Jenny.

Well, we finally made it! We've come a long way, and I'm I got to go through this "Journey" with you. I know that we've had our share of the bad times, but the good ones make up for it. I just want you to know that I'll always love you and stick by you no matter what. I'm glad that we're going to college together and see what life will dish out. But, no matter what comes along, "let's go out into the world, hold hands, and stick together forever."

I LOVE YOU, BABY.
Uay

Co-cheessse (Bessie May).

I never ever thought that we would become friends. Miracles never cease to amaze me! W.C.U. — is how I want you to remember me; on second thought, maybe NOT (Nati). "Look up the KA's number in the phone book, they'll come and get us." Remember Steak and Ale and "Brown-eyed Girl." PCB, and our incident with Rob ("See ya", wouldn't wanna be ya"). You dumb tall — you've been promoted. THE SCRATCH, YOU'RE COOL!

I love you.
Scarface (Amie)
P.S. Shotgun!

(LG) Angie Stephens.

I believe that you keep the yogurt stores in business, and if only I had a dollar for every time you yelled jeep. How about those seats at the Braves game and our laughing the entire time? You really are a great driver; you see what I'm saying? See ya' at Macon College. It'll be groovy! Brown-eyed girl.

Amber Rogers

Ben Branch.

Hang in there, you've only got two years left. Time is going to fly, so make the most of your time left. I'm really going to miss you! Love.

Amber Rogers

Walter.

Trig, class was the best. You've been a great friend. I hope that we will always keep in touch. I'll miss you! Love ya'.

Amber Rogers

O.J.,

We had a great summer and early school year. Sport. The telephone call we made in front of Lucy Cooper's. Chasing certain vehicles. My big, fat fur ball at home. Little Red. Bill and Ted's Excellent Adventure. Good luck at Georgia College. Canter on, dude!!! Love ya'.

Amber Rogers

Vomer (Tracey Ross).

Biology was the best this year. "Tracey, help me get through this." (Cat dissection). "Meow." I hope everything goes great. See ya' at Macon College. Good luck.

Love.

I couldn't have gotten through the year without all of your encouragement. Contemporary Moral Issues leaves me with good memories of you. Therapy Hog! I leave you with all of my best wishes for the future. Never forget me, Rosie!

I love you.

Nell (A.K.A. Amie)

JoAnn.

It was to Speech class! Good luck with the guys! Thanks for laughing at Roberto the chef, because I felt so STUPID! I would do it again though — anything for a decent grade! I'll never forget the first time I called out your name to get your attention, and I accidentally said, "Joanna." You screamed back, "JO-ANN!" I haven't had any trouble since.

Thanks for everything! What would we have done without each other in Speech class! Good luck next year! Have fun and stay out of trouble! Your senior year will sprout wings and fly away if you don't catch it! Bye, babel Love.

Kelli

Erin.

Yo! To the greatest shoveler in the history of MDS! You could sure get stuff started, couldn't you? Oh well, our year of high school reigning is over. We'll leave a big mess for the upcoming senior class to figure out! Lots of loose ends —

Thank you for always being so strong and helping me not to wimp out — even though I do a better job of that. Thanks for always saying what needed saying — the times when I didn't speak your language! You have been a wonderful friend these last four years! Remember when we'd talk for hours on the phone about our babysitting nightmares, the 3 act play, and how could we leave out Miss pre-Madonna? We sometimes talked so long I thought my ear was gonna fall off! We've laughed, and we've cried — sometimes about the same things! Just always remember that I admire you for your big mouth, because there were many times when I wished I had your "freedom of speech." Thanks for the great memories! I love you! Love.

Kelli

Karol Kelly.

Good luck in life, and may you never have to layout another newspaper. Say good-bye to the cows for me.

Your Layout Co-editor

Alice.

You will be truly missed. I have loved being close friends with you these last four years. I'll never forget our happy times or our serious times. Thanks for everything — the "basketball game," the water gun shoot out we had your wonderful advice, and your gift always saying the right things. I wish you and Randy the best of luck. I am so happy that you two are together — you make a great couple. Thanks for all that you have meant to me these last few years. Your friendship means a lot to me. Good luck at Furman! I love you.

Kelli

"Amber Moofrer."

Can you believe how time has flown? It seems like only yesterday that we were in 8th grade looking over "the wall." You have been a great friend over the past five years, and I know we will always be friends. I will never forget: the basketball game (and the rides home with the windows down in 30 degree weather), Bennigan's, tennis, trying not to make each other mad, T.F.L., making plans to go to Panama City, "louda girls," the nursing home, Valdosta, college decisions, angel food cake, cookies, sponge cake?, and my men! I will never forget you! See ya' at Macon. Love ya' always.

Angie

Shannon, Brandi, Mary (Shan, Bernice, Clarice).

Good luck with softball for the next three years. Ya'll better win state for us since we never did. We hope you have many more wild road trips home . . . oh and by the way . . . the Cavalcade is coming!

Love.

Angie (Juanita) and Karol (Towanda)

Karol (Karolbunga, Flipper, Towanda).

Can you believe we have graduated? You're leaving me? Who would've ever thought the "inseparable two" would go there separate ways? Not me. I want you to know that you are one of the best friends that I have ever had, and I'm glad we became closer over the last four years. I also glad I made you try out for softball again in the 11th grade, aren't you? You part of most of my greatest memories of high school. How could I ever forget that "special seat" at McDonalds where we laughed and laughed, looking for "trucks," my men, Bennigan's, fried mozzarella, our yogurt job, basketball games, killer blinds, cheese balls. Pig Latin, that face I make my Mom hates, your graceful dive when we were playing ping-pong, softball road trips, winning state playoffs in the middle of nowhere (Damasus), the meal at Shoney's afterwards, Love ya'.

Angie (angl. Juanita, Angiebuga)

Amanda.

Your friendship means so much. "You're the Inspiration." Ryan's Steakhouse. Final Analysis, bowling, Chick-Fil-A, candy bars, talking (especially in Coach Davis' class).

Kirk and Randy. Remember our crushes and our plans for the future and especially our bet. You only have three years! Thanks for being such a great Christian friend.

Love.

Jessica

Angle.

Great Hair!!! English is going to be really weird without you next year. Behave yourself next year (yeah, right). It was about time you got your driver's license!

Love.

Cars with no air conditioning rule. I will think of you every time I look out over the mountain and see all those light bulbs in the ground. Every time I get packed into a car with more than six people and every time I watch that great movie "Rumblefish!" I can't wait to be your roommate in two years. See you in Atlanta!

Love.

Jessica

Kim, My future roommate.

Since I will see you everyday for the next two years, I will not say goodbye. I will look back fondly on the memories of experiences we have had. I know we will have good experiences in N.O. You will miss those black jeans but there are African beads in N.O.

B.

Shana.

I really enjoyed getting to room with you on the choir tour. You are a wonderful girl, and I wish you much happiness in your high school life. Remember to sign up for honors English next year, and keep singing for all you're worth! May God bless you as you continue to contribute to MDS and as you try to find His perfect will for your life!

Love.

Alice

Katherine (Kat).

Well, baby we finally made it. I can't begin to write all the things we have been through. You have always been there for me and it always meant a lot. Every year we have said we needed to get closer but the year seemed to slip by us. This year it seemed so different even though it seemed like everyone else slipped away. Thanks for last summer . . . Matt's house, pool, dogs, etc., being there during the Middle Georgia spell and everything else! Be careful at GSU and always leave me a place down there. I love you forever.

Ruth

To Melonie, Siedra, Kim, Belma.

We will still be friends to the end as we go our separate ways. I shall look forward to the holidays and breaks when we can look forward to sharing our experiences and great times. Our friendship will still grow!

Neeka L. Watkins

To the Classical Writers Class.

It was a great class, but weren't you a little tired of all of those "if this person was alive today, what would he do" questions?

Love.

Cathy

Merita Evans, My fun, fast friend.

Remember the good times we had on the way to school. You could never have my man, and you're never gonna get him.

Love.

Kim

Kelli (my freshman friend).

Well, I'm finally going to be leaving. What are you going to do next year when you don't get to see my smiling face? (Ha, Ha) I hope I have someone to pick on in college since you won't be around. Good luck during high school. I'm really gonna miss you next year. Love ya'.

Karol (your favorite senior)

Ulle-J.

"Who cares? I'm ready to GRADUATE!!" I love you and I'll miss you always.

Accey-tray

Chen (Amy Covey).

I can't believe we really made it. We should have gone to Mikato's for Graduation party. Oh well, it was probably sold out anyway. Don't ever forget Panama City, red Umbros, infamous red cups, Joe B. and the army dude, Spillinkeri, the murdered seashell at St. Simon's, Prince and Crying Doves, the MIDDLE of Janice Place, the Bull and "the Hump," the hand that turned off the light, Six Flags, and Gumby and Pokey. Come see me in S.C. next year! Oh, Amy, who was that blind girl in Spunk's? I love you!

Suzi (Meg)

Richa Marshall and Ginger Martin.

I wish both of you the best of everything. Work hard and keep smiling. I will miss you two.

God Bless.

Your friend,
JoAnna Amos

Vero.

Hey, you, pro-womaner! What would we women have done without you to stand up to those men in Psychology! You tell 'em, Vero-keet! Just remember — don't be too hard on the male species, cause you just might show up at our 25th high school reunion . . . SIF-GLZ! Oh no!!!

Love.

Kelli

Melissa H..

How can I survive next year without being able to mess up your hair? That's OK, I'll just find somebody else's hair to mess with! You have been so much fun to spend time. Remember when we were lab partners, and our gook squirted all over the dish thing? What a hoot! French was the most fun of all. Beth and Dale were the entertainment of the whole year weren't they? I could watch them fight all day about the stupid stuff they fought about! I miss those old times. I guess now all we have to rely on are old memories, but memories never die!

Good luck next year in college!

Where are you going by the way?

Love.

Kelli

Richa.

Hey, my chemistry buddy! I miss not being able to put my feet on your desk anymore. I'm glad that we finally got a chance to be friends this year! Remember summer school? (Oops!) Hope I didn't embarrass you! That was so long ago, who would remember? That was about the most boring thing I did all summer! At least we had to tuff it out together!

Thank you for your quick smile, and your hand slaps. Sometimes they came at the greatest times — long days, regular schedules, etc. . . . Good luck next year! Take advantage of your senior year, because before you blink twice, you'll be two days from graduation! I'll miss you, Richa.

Love!

Kelly

Mikey.

I'm glad we sat next to each other in Physics this year, that's the only way I stayed sane. I'll never forget you having to keep waking me up that day or those days when I couldn't stop laughing or those days you were in a bad mood and I still couldn't stop laughing. Remember that Physics day at Six Flags when Mr. Mac wore that hat? He needs help. I don't recall remember how we became such good friends but I won't you to know I'm glad we did. Thanks for all you've done for me and for being a great friend (and for the tennis lessons).

Love, ya

Angle (Ang)

Belma.

My best buddy! I love you and I'll miss you so much. Thanks for being there for me through it all! I won't forget the tapes, the movies, videos, long talks, sleepovers, and you being a vegetarian! Don't forget me. BI Just remember I love you. B and thanks for being a special, special friend.

Love always,
Sledra Cooper

Angle.
Thanks for going to the mall many times. I can't believe we went so much and bought so little. Thanks for not complaining about certain unairconditioned Hyundis. Don't ever forget — Atlanta, Hyundis, shopping, yogurt, cousins (14 years old), the other one, finally getting a driver's license, and you owe me lots of gas money this summer. Love, ya.
Karol

Sam,
Thanks for all the "Maya" talks we had. The postcard was fantastic. The best of luck and wishes. Take care and God bless.
Sincerely,
JoAnna Amos

Angle, (Anglebunga, Juanita, #32, S.sister)
I can't believe we have finally made it. The time has flown. Thanks for all of the good times we have had. Even though we are going our separate ways for college, we have got many great times ahead. I can't even begin to tell you all of the things I want to say. There are so many things to remember — softball, cheeseballs, flipping, yogurt, friendships, well ... you know all the other stuff. Oh yeah, don't forget about paranoid teachers. I'm gonna miss you next year. Thanks for all of the good times. Love, ya!
Karol (Flipper, Tawanda, Karolbunga, the other S.sister)

Amber,
The cows are fine. Oh, by the way ... DOOR! It's not that funny and don't ask me any questions!
Karol

Kinte crew.
What a time we had in Nashville. Its a 317 thang! "We ain't go'n make it!" Let's all tie a twisty tie around our friendship and keep the Kinte Spirit alive. Next year don't go drillin' no holes. Tonya, counseling sessions are still open. You will just have to send me a notice in New Orleans.
Kim Reid

My brother, Columbus Watkins, Jr.,
I wish the best success to you in your future endeavors. I will certainly miss having to pick you up from school.
Love,
Your sister, Neeka Watkins

The St. Peter Claver Crew,
Siedra, CoCo, Windell, Marcel, Tarcia, La-monte, Melonie, Belma, Sheve, Gerdine, and Erica. We've come along way baby. St. Peter Claver was the beginning for most of us and this year we ended it all together. Keep the faith and just remember the wonderful times we had.
Kim R.

Andrea,
It's been tough at times but we've done it at last. I couldn't have made it without you. Your friendship will always be cherished close to my heart. Thank you for it. Our fun times will be remembered by me for years to come. Never change, Andrea. You are the world's best. "Now here this," is forever trapped in my memory. I smile everytime I think about it. I wish you much love and the best of luck. God Bless.
Love always,
Deck Ape (JoAnna)

Kyle,
Thanks for all the aggravation you've bestowed upon me (you know I loved it). Your friendship means a lot to me and always will. Thank you for it. I wish you only the best and pray that you never change that Megadeath personality of yours (only joking). I think I had the best homeroom partner in the world, even if you did slobber all over the desk. Love ya always, God Bless.
JoAnna

P.S. My asparagus still has an attitude.

Ronda,
Thanks for great beach trips and good advice. The blue caprice. Amy, you, and me will definitely find that "HUMP" again someday. Maybe Mama J can come! I love you.
Meg

Mark Devenney (Buford),
I want to thank you for adding so much to my senior year. You made it the best it could be. Never forget all the great times we had together. Dan, the horse, and his carriage, 60 degree swimming pools, Buford's Journal, St. Simons (414), one seashell I have and another that I still pray for (it was murdered!), fig newtons and foo-foo, the GREEN shirt, Beal's front steps, balloons and Blow Pops, the Bull and the Bird, strawberries and Cool Whip, and never forget that the first girl will be Chelsea! I know we'll be strong so don't doubt it. Just always smile. I'm going to miss you so much, but just remember that I promise I will be at the fence waiting for as soon as possible.
I love you,
Meg

Mike,
What can I say besides "beam me up"? If all else fails — write captions for pictures in a book! And always remember — when life has really got you down and you think there's no hope — you can always arm the photon torpedo!
Jenny

J.P.,
Thanks for your unselfish assistance on the newspaper. I couldn't have stayed insane without you. Thanks for bearing my dry, dry jokes and absurd headline suggestions. You're a great, great person. You'll go a long way even if your ears are buring! Never forget how weird school looks at 4:00 in the morning. It won't be easy to forget, anyway. Kind of like a recurring nightmare!
Love,
Jenny Flewellyn

Andrea,
Do these words ring a bell? Bowling, cards, Bar None candy bars, Vernon's machete at Six Flags, badminton (or is it "bat" minton? Oh, sorry, that was a "bat" one), Sr. Grace Marie, homework, homework, homework, P.J., the attack cat, twister, video cameras, the longest cruise in history — NO GAMBLING but PLENTY of Jamaican music, and so many more great memories. I'm so glad I got to share them with you! You're sweet and kind and you can do anything you set your mind to! All the best of everything forever for you! Love,
Jenny
P.S. Don't forget the crazy red chicken! We miss her a lot, but I know she's up there waiting for us to give her corn!
Love ya, Millie ...

CoCo, (Elements of Fear)
My girl! I'll miss you very much. You're a sweet and caring person who will go very far in life. You've been a friend since kindergarten, and you'll be a friend for the rest of my life!
I love you and God bless!
Love,
Sledra Cooper

Ronda,
To the best friend in the whole world. You don't know how much you mean to me. If someone asked me what a real friend is, I'd have to say it's you. You've been there so many times when I needed you. We've been through so much together. There are just a FEW things I don't want you to forget: gators, Cal, cucumbers, airplanes, Dr. Peetgood, Eckers, woodpeckers, mama J's Caprice Classic at 2a.m., D-dog, polo, all night M.T.V., camels, "keep on knocking," the thumps on the window, me falling off the roof, the Coach and six, Harcourt Brace Jovanovich, ducks, red lights, the spotted dog, your red tree, your neighbor's mailbox, bowling tournaments, "unhand me, woman," blazers, uncharted territory of rivoli, Jr/Sr, Slier's knives, Summerwind, the year long bet, what time is it?, 4:19, "my people," browned-eyed girl, rainbow days, fresh-air, syrup and eggs, taking a bubble bath, I feel like chicken to-night, Lucy, the "road song," seeing Wally, I.C.E., so glad you are gonna be my roomie next year in Brumby! Just one more word — FLUUUUSSHH! All my love forever and ever!
Amy

Slier,
What would I have done without you? You've cheered me up and made me laugh so many times. I don't think I've ever seen you in a bad mood. I know I tease you a lot especially about Chippy and fat girl, but you know I'm just kidding. There are so many memories like Jr/Sr, your knives from Bennigans, Oedipus and I.C.E., just to name a few. And no, I don't want to see Wally. Don't ever change. I love you, Slier!
Amy
P.S. I broke up with you.
P.S.S. Were we ever going out??

Melonie and Sledra,
I look forward to a delightful fall with you guys at the AU Center.
Love,
Sheva

Amber J.,
Thanks for all the sweet "Hello's" you've shared. You're one in a million. Best wishes and good luck. Love you friend,
JoAnna Amos

John,
The years have gone by fast. And we finally got to the end of high school. This is what we had been trying to get to for so long. We will keep in touch and you will have my phone number.
Sincerely,
Walt

Ames,
We've been through so much together. I'll never forget Espanol and the flyswatter. That was hilarious. We were "so silly." Always remember — power 102, vogue, Ebenezer, delayed reaction, Hilton Head, Dave #1 and Dave #2, "Rich says he can make you sweat," the toaster, can't touch this, Peace Dog, "Bogus," the Bopper, K-Mart with Danny and David, DS, TH, and VBF, and spring break '92: Chandler's, the gas station, your peppermint, "challenges." Thanks for being such a great friend and you better keep in touch with me while you're at UGA. I'll be coming to see you on Oct.2. Good luck next year!
I love you,
Kat

Jen,
Hey, girlfriend! We have finally made it. We have been together since 8th grade. We have gone through a lot with each other — arguments, love, tears, a lot of laughter, disappointment and finally graduation. It's hard to believe that it's fixing to end. We are fixing to go in different directions, but know matter how much distance there is between us. We will remain BEST FRIENDS. Love ya,
Julie Melvin

POOH,
Well what can I say. We have been through everything together. Remember all those great times we had at P.C. "I need a toy," "BBQ alert," "I think I'm going to cry," "I think I'm going to laugh." I'm really going to miss not seeing you everyday and having our little gossip session. I love you with all my heart, little sis. We have made a lot of memories this past year. We still have more to make. Even though we are not going to be together next year, you will still be in my thoughts. Have a great time your senior year. Keep Ken straight at football. Don't let him talk too bad about me. Have a great time at football! Love ya,
Bug

Ben Willis,
I'm going to miss little brother advice. I'll miss you at Rockmont, but you'll be back next summer, right? Don't worry about her, but we will get Mr. Hunt someday.
Love BIG Sis,
Meg

Yvette,
How's it going SENIOR! Thank you for all the great times we have shared and I believe there are many more great times to come in the future. Although we have had our ups and downs, things always seemed to fall the right way in the end. I would like to wish you good luck with your SENIOR year and hope that yours will be as memorable as mine. I love you.
Love always,
Danny

Pots and S.J.-3
The trio is now a duo, but always dynamic as we are. I know the fellas will handle things on the court next year and win the State again. 3, get a Jeep so you won't damage the Integra by killing the curbs. Pots, you should try dunking instead of getting your shot pinned on the glass. We've had some tripping times. Do not forget our pac. I'm out!
Peace,
DoLaMont

Calculus 7th period,
Remember "Celebrate good times, come on. There's a party goin' on right here!" Coach Garvin was great! "I don't understand what you don't understand." Party on.
Kim R.

Michael,
I hat to say it, but the hunt was more fun than the win. I hope you don't understand that. You're a really great guy, and I'm very glad I met you. Don't think I'm gone forever — I'm still working next door! So wave to me when you see me and talk to me once in a while. A long time ago, you promised me a ride in the Mustang, and you still haven't delivered. I expect payment, you know.
Love,
Carol
P.S. Next time you're riding with someone who has helium in his trunk, don't tell him it's explosive!!

Amber,
The good times so easily erase scarred memories. How many driveways have we turned around in? Never forget Sport, the gate guy at River North, red Jeeps (was that the Five Star one?), S. H. Bl, getting egged, seeing that unexpected someone at Bloomfield, soccer games, coming in to find a missing T.V., the girl who chased us off in a Jeep, Little Red, Paula Abdul's Maserati, C.M.B., Motown Philly ... Dolin' a little East coast blah, "Don't Treat Me Bad," And how well we wrote new song lyrics on the spot. How many different Toyota's did I drive? Don't forget the speeding ticket, my cousin Keith, running out of gas sideways across a driveway, working on the SAC (posters, posters, posters), when the guys moved my car and set of the "Toyoguard", when Marvin sprayed, popping the car into reverse (accidentally) in front of your house, shopping in the Gap for sale jeans, my stories about Gwen and "Raylene", tennis silly string, so much more. You are a talented, caring person. I know you'll go far. For a long, long time, you were my only friend. It can never be that way again (it is better that it can't) but I'll ALWAYS treasure those memories. At first I was happier without you, but then I really missed you. You touched my soul and I didn't know it. Thank you so, so much for everything you are to me. Oh, and one more thing — Canter On, Dude!
Love,
O.J.

Mel.,
It's me. Bubbis! It's hard to believe that four years have already gone by. It seems just like yesterday that I was sitting next to you in Espanol class. I never would have thought we would become so close. You have been a great friend to me, and I will never forget you or our late night talks about you-know-who. Were we dating the same guy? Remember "be all you can be ..." and "get an edge on life ..." Short is always best. Thanks for everything you have done, and don't ever change. I'll love you always!
Covey
P.S. Wuut!

Hi, Beav,
I just wanted to tell you that I had some of the best times with you. Fernandina, the Volvo stuck, fish tailing in the dirt, the guys that chased us, you riding the back of that truck so close, you always picking me up on your back, how many times did we spy on our beaux?, hiding in the bushes from Ronda's car, "if I was just a fly in the blazer," Chandler with the pepper at Ruby Tuesday's, I didn't think we would ever stop laughing, me running that car off the road, you embarrassing me in Rivoli Downs and Chad's Ford, the best: Coach D. falling asleep in 7th period. See ya' at Georgialuv ya'!
Wally
P.S. Gee, Beav. What are you gonna do tonight?

Veronique,
4th period, Cherry Blossom, my endless troubles, your way-out-there-dreams, my vision of you as Betty Crocker — NOT!! Don't ever stop dancing (ha,ha!). Thanks for being there and sharing so much with me! I love you!!
Melissa

Kat,
We had some great times in Spanish class. Don't forget Lamonte with the fly swatter and hairspray. You know what Jay kept doing. The blue dress every Friday, then came Eberz, Vogue and strike a pose, my pool, and "sweet nothings." Those were some good times. Hilton Head was the best. Was it Dave #1 or Dave #2? All I have to say is St. Simon's and the big V or the big S.C., "I felt like Fireman Marshall." Thanks for all you've done for me, especially you-know-who. I'll never forget your, "Don't You Forget About Me!" I luv ya!
Ames

Jen, Jay, Bran, and Slier,
I'm looking forward to being with all of you next year. WATCH OUT GA. SOUTHERN. HERE WE COME!
Katherine

Ron,
I'm really glad we've gotten closer over the past two years. I'll never forget the time that Kate, Amy, and I spent the night at your house and almost got busted for something we didn't even do. I'll also always keep the thought with me that your deck won't fall down if you build a swing on it! Always remember butterscotch sundaes, "pictures of you," Jane Fonda, "Hot Cross Buns," our trip to Fernandina, the hunchback, spring break '92, and most importantly, our long talks during our aerobic breaks. Thank you for always being there to listen. Good luck at UGA next year, and keep the Georgia map with you because you're going to need it to get to South-em. Thanks for everything! I love you.
Kat

Mike,
The starship will live forever in our hearts.
Love,
Karol

Meg, Angie, and J.P.,
Room 225, duct tape, the Symphony, Jennifer's alarm clock, and her famous stories, Meg's great mood in the morning, and our long talks about Meg — BURP, "SCHWING," and grr ... grr ... I Jennifer — snort, snort, snort! Angie — hee,hee,hee,hee (the laugh of "satan"!); Thanks for making this year in Chorus so great.
Love,
Jessica

Buddy,
There has never been a time you didn't make me laugh. We've had some good times, especially at P.C. beach, Emerald Falls, Milka-to's, red cups, J.B., and with navy blue umbrellas, and Gummy and Pokey night. How many times did we watch "Good Morning, Vietnam"? Remember Mama J.'s Caprice Classic at 2 a.m., the hill? Which Mercer guy's dorm window is it? I don't think I'll ever forget how many times we drove by, Suzi, I can't see you! Thanks for being such a good friend! I love you!!
Buddy

RONO (Blue-eyed girl),
I'm really going to miss those trips to Har-dee's and those long talks we had walking up and down the football field before the games. All the memories at my house: the attack of the fire hydrant (and the other fire we came in contact with); the spring break trips to St. Simon's. Thanks for always being there to listen. You always understood. RACING ROY-DA always wins. DON'T forget to howl at the MOON.
Love ya' (PLUS TAX), JUBE

Slier,
Thanks for all the great times we have had. Remember — brown-eyed boy and green-eyed girl. WARNING: Stay away from black lace.
Love ya,
Julie

Dana,
Morning jogs, California, all those essays, decisions, decisions!! Thanks for such a great year! Keep in touch!
Melissa

Kevin DeMichiel,
We leave you THE BLACK AND BLUE BRUISES! HA, HA, HA.
See ya'
Scotty and Brad

Rufus Dufus,
Well, we've had some really good times together. They pretty much started in 8th grade when we were on the C-team. Always remember our walks to the movies, our first basketball game, UGA camps, time's at Matt's house, not 1, not 2, but 3, golf range with Brett and Pat, party at Pat's house, Stratford Jr./Sr., my blind date, the limo, tonic water, Stratford graduation party, "Are You Lovin' Me, Like I'm Lovin' You," and our trip to Cochran. Thanks for always being there for me, and always remember I'll always be there for you. I'm really going to miss you while I'm at school. You're going to have to come visit me at Southern. Don't ever forget how much you mean to me and that you're one of the greatest friends I've ever had! I love you.
Katherine

Kate (Kit),
Well, I don't really know where to start. The past 13 years with you have been great. I've had some of the best times of my life with you and you're one of the best friends I've ever had. Always remember all the good times we've had — Ruby Tuesday's with Chandler, Mark, Steve, and Amy, Kroger parking lot with Brandon, J.B., and C.C., Sunday afternoons cruising the strip, DQ and strawberry Mr. Misty's, looking for red cars: Eugene, Orville, and Wilbur, Julcy Gatcha Krazy, For Just a Moment, and Wonderful Tonight; the night you got struck by lightning, the 4th of July; Hanse, Dover, and Cox, the badgets, and under the boardwalk while it was raining; all the times at Matt's house: Kit and Kat, the hot tub, Another 48 hours, dancing in the kitchen, not 1, not 2, but 3, the towel rack and moving up day; stalling at Burger King in the Fonx, cheesesticks from Bennigan's, getting lost in Warner Robins, Riverside and DS, TH, VBF, DB, and V. Thanks for all the great memories. We've got 3 1/2 more months to replace the times we've missed being together this past year. I want you to know that I love you so much and I hope our great times together never end! (And you are a bigger air head!)
Love,
Katherine (Kat)

Rick, Matt, and Dana,
I guess it's been time for the yeast roll to be outta here! It's been real and it's been fun but it hasn't been real fun! I hope you guys have a great time! Probably not nearly as much fun as I'll be having. Dana, I hope you can keep the tradition alive and be the Big Fat Yeast Roll (Part II).
Jay

To the Girls: Melonie, Sledra, Coco, Neeka, Kim, Belma,
Thanks for always being there for me. I will always treasure the many memories that we share. I love you all and hope that your futures will forever be bright. Thanks, and I LOVE YOU!
Love,
Sheva

Moral Issues II,
I love all of you. First semester we were a family — far more beyond friends. Thank you for letting me open up to you and for not looking down on me when I really needed you. So, I missed twenty-something days, ya'll were still in my heart! Yes — even you, "Therapy Hog!" Thank You. I love you.
Ross-Dress-4-Less

Ethmold,
I'm so glad we've become "Advanced Bio Buddies!" Thank you so much for EVERYTHING — $6, "Shhhhh," all my men, B.T., does not, laughter, tears, friendship, memories. "Meow!" "Meow!"
Love Always,
Vomer

Christel,
Have you talked to Ray lately? Say hi to the Big Cahoon and Hearts for me. Don't have too much fun at the next Search without me. I want pictures!
C.J.

John,
"I am not in a bad mood. I'm just tired."
How often did you hear me say that? Thanks for not parking in my parking place.
Cathy

Julie,
In eighth grade we got off to a rocky start, but over the years we have become good friends. Have a great time at Georgia College and be careful. Call me this summer and I promise I'll set you up with someone besides Mr. Hands! I love you.
Ruth

Polly,
We've been going to school together since 5th grade. I wouldn't have made it through without you. Remember St. Joseph's, Robin, fighting with Robin, finding out Melissa was Melissa, going to River North, sleepovers, Christy Burket's surprise going away party, sneaking out at Melissa's, and going to the Perry Fair. I'll miss you!
Love,
Cathy

Belma,
I hope you have many happy layout memories ahead. Don't forget all of the fun we had. I luv ya!
Karol

Avril, Sonya, and Justin,
The three stooges! Thanks for the laughter in Art. I'll miss the songs that we sing, and the memories of picking on Justin. Sonya, you are a sweet and caring person who will go a long way. Justin, you are sweet and will have a great success in life. Avril, you are a true character, who is sooooo ... talented and crazy. I love you guys.
Sledra Cooper

Melonie and Sheva,
I love you two! Thanks for friendship, the true friendship that people never get to experience. You both have been there for me when I thought I couldn't make it. Thanks for the advice, special moments, long talks, and memorable moments at Kroger (Sheva)! Melonie, you're crazy and you always will be, but you'll also be a very successful and wonderful person in life. Sheva, you're very direct, but you'll also be a very successful and special person in life. God bless, keep the faith, and I'll see you in the fall!
Love Always,
Sledra Cooper

Angie J.,
It's been wonderful to have your friendship. Thank you for it. I wish only good things for you. Always remember that that voice of yours never failed to touch my soul. Keep singing, God bless. I WUP YOU.
Love,
Joanna

JoAnn,
What can I say? Free period wouldn't have been the same without you. Wandering around the New Building, laughing in the halls until we almost got in trouble, and of course, freshman guys. Have fun being a senior. By the way, how did you get your shoe back from Kevin?
Love,
Cathy

Brandl,
Thanks for the warm smiles you've given me. We had good times in Mr. Mermann's class didn't we? Best wishes and good luck. God bless.
Love,
JoAnna Amos

Class of 1992,
Thanks for the memories, and special moments. I love each and every one of you. May you have everything that you need and all your wishes to come true. God bless.
Sledra Cooper

Heather,
It's been fun. I'll never forget the nights you, me and Kimmy used to go goof off. Thanks for the laughs. Best of luck. God bless.

Your friend,
JoAnna Amos

Erin,
"Follow that crew cut!" Sorry about kicking it into neutral on a hill, but that dweeb was after us. I wish you much love and happiness. Thanks for the great times! God bless.
Love,
Jo

Carolyn,
It was only one year, but it was fun, especially during tennis season. You've got something in your teeth, it looks like strawberry seeds. That's OK, there's punch in my shoes. By the way, close your mouth.
Cathy

Double Trouble,
"A good friend sometimes worries that your other good friends mean more to you." Friends are friends forever. Memories. I think we've been through it all — together! C.I. — need I say more? Turtle power. River North — FENCE, Toilet paper. Remember the bath tub then freezing each other with the water hose? Jr./Sr. Tommy, Jim, Ron, J.P. — now Kevin. Who will I be in love with next week? Pictures by Patrick. Heartaches. Eddie, you, Thomas, me — the Cook Shack. First lunch. 3a.m. — "Where have you been?" Christmas 1991. Dead Bob. "Don't hit the tree. SLOW DOWN!" There are red ships, there are blue ships. There are no ships like friendships — OURS, I love you.
My Love and Friendships Always,
Your Other Half

Jennifer Kim,
4 long years, we finally made it. Did you think we aever would? Time to go North. Don't forget going to the concerts, making the videos, destroying th video, Trig, class, the memory books, our Calculus countdown, and all that other stuff. See ya up North!
Love,
Cathy

Angie,
I'm so glad that you're finally gotten your driver's license, now you can drive me around. Say hi to Mom for me. Always remember clearly canaswan, Millard's house, trips to the mall, driving thru River North while eating Dunkin' Doughnuts, that "wonderful" tape player, and MAW!
Love,
Cathy

Mernin,
Or should I say E.D.? After 4 years, I'll finally be able to get away from you (Just kidding). There'll be no more 3a.m. phone calls, drives out into the boonies where you in, nor anymore "surprise visits." Oh, do me a favor, destroy that video!!
C.J.

Kim and Neeka,
You two are true characters! Kim, you have so much energy, and Neeka, you are so crazy. I love both of you and I thank you for everything that you've given me and done for me. For the special moments, and true friendship that you've given me. I sincerely say thanks. By the way, Kim, you better not procrastinate or be lazy in writing me while you're in New Orleans! Mardi Gras!
Love ya,
Sledra Cooper

Wendell, Marcel, L.A., Jamal, Gerdine, Many-man(Millard), and Billy,
Good luck in the future and may all your wishes and dreams come true. Hey, Wendell, you better start listening to your cousin!
Love, Sledra

J.J.,
Thanks for helping me get through this year and thanks for being there when I needed you the most. I love ya!
Scotty

Vanessa "Paige" Williams,
I don't remember Homecoming '90, do you? I do remember th enlight before the Renaissance Festival! Thank you for all the ups and downs we had our junior year. "Sometimes the very thing you're looking for is the one thing you can't see." Well sis, you can see 'cause you got me! I Wuf You.

Boca

Coach Hatcher,

Thank you for everything that you've done for me over the past 18 years. You've taught me so much, practically everything I know. You've been the best role model for me as a mother and a coach. I'm going to miss you next year. I love you.
Katherine

Christy S.,

Its been wonderful seeing you everyday. We've had fun yelling at tennis players (Bwa-ha-ha), tongue harmonics, power tools (I never understood that, maybe its best that I don't.) See you this summer.
Kyle Adkins

Mrs. Manning, Mrs. Cortes, and Mrs. Able,

Thank you for being so nice when we would come in late and thank you for calling our Mommy's and Daddies when we were sick. You are ladies are wonderful. God bless.
Sincerely,

JoAnna Amos

Mr. Dockrell,

It's been a year to remeber. I know you'll miss me the most. You'll wish I was there to kill Gummy off. I'm glad to have had you for our leader on E-Street. Long live E-Street and its leader, Da Boss. WBH-2 crewmember #4 signing off.
Johnny Hiltman

Joann,

There are so many things I could say to bug you even more than I already do, but I think it's already been said and done. You are a good sport. Don't take anyone's garbage. Thanks for all of your advice for I shall cherish it always.
Da Geek (a.k.a. J.H.)

Alena,

I'm so glad we got to know each other. I truly believe had we not, I would have missed meeting a truly beautiful person. Thanks for everything. Please, never forget me and spring break. You will keep in touch else there's a stick of celery waiting for you
John

Coach Garvin,

You were and still are the greatest math teacher I've ever had in my life. Despite your intimidating qualities, you made me think when I didn't want to think. Sometimes your class made me want to scream, but deep down I really enjoyed it. In the future, I'll tell people about my crazy Calculus teacher who ate fried chicken with Pythagoras and many more loony tunes. Keep up the wonderful work you are doing, because teachers like you are hard to find.
Love,

Kim Reid, 7th period Calculus

Anybody,

Has anybody seen a party around here?
Kyle

Gerdine,

You will forever be a dear friend. You have given me much happiness by your smiles and talks that we've had. Thank you for the great times. I will truly miss you. Best wishes and good luck in whatever your challenges hold. Love always,
Jo (your little buddy)

Wait,

To me, you'll always be the greatest goalie that ever lived. Thank you for the laughter and sharing that great smile with me. Best of luck. God bless.
Love,
JoAnna

Math 4,

After you read this, you will all know who it is: The $10 room is always open to ya'll it's been fun!

Cynthia,

It has been a long time! You are the only one of my friends who knows the meaning of such names as Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Thrower, and Mr. L.T. Hanna. We have seen each other grow up from the very beginning — of course, I can't remember the very beginning anymore! No one else will ever share as many common experiences with me as you do. There have been some GOOD times. You can't imagine how much I will miss you. I pray that your memories from Davidson will be as good as the ones we have made together at Alexander II, St. Peter Claver, and MDS. You are a very special young lady, and I know that the friends you will soon meet will be greatly blessed by knowing you. I know that I have been. Take care of yourself, and write at least occasionally!

Much love,
Alice

Every teacher at MDS who ever had me.

I'm sure you're all glad to see me graduated and out of your now gray (thanks to me) hair, but I don't want to leave without all of you knowing how much I appreciate and value you for what you have given me. It's more than just an education, anyone could have given that. It's a sense of real Christian concern and dedication. I thank all of you who put up with me, and I want you to know that as soon as I walk across that stage and get my diploma, I promise ... no more questions!
Sincerely,

Beth Carmichael

The participants of the First and Last Honors English Trivial Pursuit Party.

It was a blast. Thanks, Jenny.

Belma

Roma,

I have only one thing to say to you: have you found Preston yet? You're the greatest! I love you.
Cocheese

Chris K.,

Four years, man. It's been great especially those many hour long lunch periods. Fan belts, panicky ladies, Andy's Camaro (Where are we going? What's so funny? I don't know. FOOD!). After all that, I'm looking forward to a nice, long trip. Bzzzzzzzzzz.
Kyle

Amie Lynn,

"Hello ... is there anybody in there?" Remember Sheila at Leo's. I love that woman! Not too long ago, the ceiling at Bear's Den "I'm moving. It's fixing to hit the fan!" Dinner at Mikata, dinner at Steak and Ale. "We're never gonna get out of here!" so we healed ourselves with "Hey where did we go, days when the rains came ...". Well, we finally made it! Remember all those close calls in my car: "we're gonna die now." Salon one. Gold's (Greg). Me and you on the beach. Just remember: "Life is a highway, and I wanna ride it all night long!" I love you.
Bessie Mae

Chris and Matt,

You guys both know I love you. Remember "You're gonna miss my lovin'"; "Brown-eyed Girl," and the best one of all "Oh Roy, Oh Roy, is that your horse?" Please stick together, please keep on making beautiful music, and please don't ever change. Matt, when are we going to go to another art gallery? I'll never forget Abby and the C-yellow hat. That was so fun! We'll have to do it again.
Love,

Beth

P.S. Have they untaped you'll from 307 yet?

Lola,

We have been through so much! Remember summer: "Ridin' that train Casey Jones you better, watch yo' speed!" You keeping Bobby busy for me at TYR: babysittin' Laura. Scot Cauley, Jim Sanders, and all the time we spent at Cucos. Grant and Bobby at River North (Pool!). The train that wouldn't budge. All the close calls. "We're going to die now." Pizza rolls and sun chips at Baldino's. Quantum Leap. Pretty in Pink, and all those emergency trips to Krispy Kreme after Sid's. Two years ago I never could have seen this, but I wouldn't have had it any other way! Worlds Apart brought us worlds closer. I love you,
Lola.

Bessie Mae (Cocheese)

P.S. We sure had Trey going didn't we?

Coach Slocum,

You're the greatest. Thanks for everything. Best wishes and much luck.
Love,

JoAnna Amos (Miss Navy)

Kate,

"DON'T LOOK AT ME LIKE THAT, KATE!"
Love Ya',
Julie

Lola and A-L,

The miraculous friendship between us ... what would we have done without each other? Remember Scott and Natl and the endless rolls of toilet paper, Patti — need is say more?, the Golf House, 3 in the morning at Waffle House, Lasagna Day at the Den — "Here comes Salon One!", "In the Air Tonight," Jr.-Sr.-how many people were in my car?, Jim and Sweetroll (Tonl), Mike, Keg, and of course Rip. "My darling, you look wonderful tonight," all those nights at the Mercer library ... Bailey Cardwell, El Sombbrero, WHAT EVER! It sure has been fun! I can't wait to see what we get into this summer! I love ya'll so much! Thanks for being there.
Bessie Mae (Cocheese)

Amie Lynn,

Who can forget WCU? "... Oh, I'm thinking about transferring," what was that guy's name again? Julie? Remember me on the other bank. "Amie, Amie ... heeey! Over here!" Back at the house (finally), "I had to walk 5 Miles!" and the morning after, "Is it wrecked? I think somebody hit it!" and best of all, "It's got to be in the phone book, look under KAI!"
Love,
Bessie Mae

J.P. (Lily White),

Knowing you has been great. We've all shared some tears and gotten on each other's nerves, but through it all we've grown closer. Remember (1) Trig with Mermann, (2) Calculus with Garvin, (3) George Michael RULES. I LOVE YOU.
Kim R.

Alice,

Fellow yearbooker, Calculus suffer partner, Economics nut ... What a year! It's been great knowing you the past five years! We've competed with each other, helped each other, and achieved together. You've always listened, no matter how sarcastic or dry my words were. You've given me good support and a great example through your faith. I enjoyed our "vacation" to Spanish camp. We bent the rules a little and said a word or two in English, but ... And do you remember memorizing "El Patio"?

By the time you get your yearbook, you'll have read this message a dozen times (plus proof). I hope you get your yearbook, actually, because it may, not get done. 11 layouts in a week. Graduation week! If we get through it alive, we'll surely be insane! I want to leave you with some things you'll need later on in life — prepositions by the hundreds for all those college papers, and Economics book for juicy leisure reading, and, finally, to put wherever you see fit — a lifetime supply of commas!..... I wish you the best in your life and a healthy half-dozen kids!
Con mucho amor,
Juanita

Jenny (OJ),

This is actually a part of the yearbook that you did not write, type into the computer, fit, or print out. I think I've made up for the night you stayed up here until 4:30! Anyway, you have been outstanding to work with, and I think the results will speak for themselves. Sorry about the many prepositions (written during our freetime in the yearbook room of miniscule size at 90 degrees Faranheit at MDS with the rest of the staff of the Salesian from time to time!), calling you drippy, hairballs, and my dull, boring captions.

Besides all of that, you have been a great friend over the past five years. The competition has been rough. So have the jokes! I hope that the next four years will open up a world of opportunities for you — literally. I am sure you will surprise yourself with a fantastic experience at Georgia College. You are a wonderful and talented young lady, and many, many new people are going to find that out soon! I'm definitely going to miss you.

Love,
Alice

Last Impressions

Moving on. Seniors Chris Moncrief and Veronique Fessard hug as they celebrate the end of their last day of high school.

Ana Perez-Lanzac holds the presents given to her by the Spanish Club after the last meeting of the year.

One step further. Scott Sheppard, Brandon Davis, and Sam Moody wait in the fellowship hall of St. Joseph's before the Baccalaureate Mass.

Graduate Matt Able leads the responsorial during the Baccalaureate Mass.

One last look. Senior girls line up and get ready for their procession.
